

UNION STATE CONVENTION.—A State Convention will be held in the Hall of the House of Representatives, in Harrisburg, Pa., on Wednesday, the seventh day of March, A. D. 1866, at 12 o'clock M., for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Governor, to be supported by the friends of the Union.

The order of war has tried the strength of our Government. Its fire has purified the nation. The defence of the nation's life has demonstrated who were its friends. The principles vindicated in the field must be preserved in the councils of the nation. The arch enemy of freedom must be struck once more. All the friends of our Government, and all who were loyal to the cause of the Union, in our late struggle, are earnestly requested to unite in sending delegates to represent them in said Convention.

By order of the Union State Central Committee. JOHN CESSNA, Chairman. Attest: GEO. W. HAMERSLEY, Secretaries. A. W. BENDICT.

We return our thanks to Senator White and Representative Pershing for valuable public documents.

The News.

SECRETARY STANTON has applied to the Committee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives for an appropriation for the purchase of the building in Washington known as Ford's Theatre, which was taken possession of, by order of the President, after the tragic affair which occurred there. It was at first proposed to make it a depository of rebel archives, but there are not sufficient of such papers to need so large a building. For the use of the Surgeon's Department of the army, with its immense and valuable records of the dead and wounded soldiers of the regular and volunteer army, and of those discharged for sickness, this building would be a proper receptacle, and for such purpose it is now designed to use it.

By an order from the War Department, dated December 23, 1865, and published January 10, 1866, there were mustered out of the United States service, 21 Major Generals, 57 Brevet Major Generals, and 46 Brigadier Generals, making a total of 124 of the "gentlemen with stars," who are thus restored to private life. Orders have also been issued to the different department commanders to forward a list of all general officers in their commands whose services can be dispensed with.—The work of retrenchment goes bravely on.

The Washington Star says: There is not the slightest foundation for the story just now so industriously circulated, to the effect that Secretary Stanton's broken health will compel him to resign and seek recuperation in a foreign mission.—Secretary Stanton is not only in excellent health, but expects to outlive the copperheads who are working so zealously to displace him.

The National House of Representatives, by the decisive vote of 116 to 54, have enacted that "from all laws or parts of laws, prescribing the qualifications of electors to any office in the District of Columbia, the word white be and the same is hereby stricken out, and that from and after the passage of this act no person shall be disqualified from voting at any election held in the said district on account of color."

THE MORMONS are becoming daily more defiant in a disregard of their obligations to the Federal Government. It is quite likely that a power unseen is tempting these wretches to a deserved doom, and that at the proper time the Government will lay its heavy hand on polygamy, Brigham Young and his prostitutes.

HON. MARCUS L. WARD was inaugurated Governor of New Jersey, on Tuesday, at Trenton. In his inaugural, he urged the adoption by the State of the constitutional amendment, returns thanks to the soldiers, and expresses full faith in the policy and ability of President Johnson.

JEFF. DAVIS is rapidly growing gray, and though not actually sick, does not possess a very strong lease of life. He has no visitors, except occasionally a clergyman from Richmond, but converses frequently with the Union officers who have charge of his prison.

The newspapers throughout the State are urging the passage of a law by the Legislature increasing the pay of jurors and witnesses at Court. At present, the compensation allowed them will not pay their board bill.

Forney's Press, the Harrisburg Telegraph, and several other influential journals, have come out in favor of the nomination of Gen. Geary for Governor.

HON. JOHN SHERMAN has been re-elected U. S. Senator from Ohio for six years from the 4th of March, 1867.

BEDFORD COUNTY decided at her primary election, held last week, in favor of Hon. John Cessna for Governor.

HON. GEORGE BANCROFT has signified his willingness to deliver the eulogy on Lincoln, on the 12th of February next.

Gov. CURTIN has returned home from Cuba, greatly improved in health.

Execution of Mrs. Martha Grin-der, the Female Poisoner.

SHE CONFESSES HER GUILT, AND ACKNOWLEDGES THE JUSTICE OF HER PUNISHMENT.

PITTSBURG, January 20, 1866.

To the Editor of The Alleghenian:

Mrs. Martha Grin-der, the modern Borg-ia, was yesterday hanged to death in the yard adjoining the jail in this city, on the gallows used one week prior for the execution of Freck and Marshall. Death, in any aspect it may present itself upon our observation, is a something terrible to contemplate:—surely the sudden, the violent death of a woman by the hideous machinery of the law, is the most soul-sickening and terrible of all! By common consent, woman is invested with certain attributes whereby she is made to take rank only a little lower than the angels, and it is assiduously taught us that to love, cherish, and protect her, who is the weaker vessel, is the perfection of chivalry. So that, to be obliged to mete out to her pains and punishments, is peculiarly repugnant to our feelings; and especially when the punishment is death, does it seem to us that by its imposition we are guilty of a transgression of a law strong as a divine command. But it should be remembered that by making herself amenable to punishment—by that act, a woman unsezes herself, and is entitled to be looked upon no longer as a woman, but as a criminal. And though it may outrage our finer feelings and perceptions, it would be a spirit of false chivalry which would refuse to mete out that punishment as impartially as to one of sterner mould, though not of more damning depravity of heart.

HER CRIME.

Though Mrs. Grin-der was accused of producing the death of some half-dozen persons through the agency of poison, it was for the murder especially of Mrs. Mary Caroline Caruthers that she was found guilty and sentenced to be hanged. Mrs. Caruthers resided, with her husband, in Allegheny City, in a house adjoining the one occupied by Mrs. Grin-der. During the month of June last, in acceptance of an urgent invitation, she partook of tea with Mrs. Grin-der. To break bread together has from time immemorial been considered the most sacred symbol of friendship, and even among heathen nations a man was safe from harm or hurt from his deadliest enemy while at table with him. How do we find Mrs. Grin-der regarding this strongest of all social laws? About 9 o'clock the same evening, Mrs. Caruthers took violently ill, when a medical man was called, who pronounced her suffering the result of poison introduced into her system. She recovered from this attack, but shortly afterward took sick again, with precisely the same symptoms as before. In this condition she continued to suffer and sink until the seventeenth day, when she died. During her entire illness, Mrs. Grin-der was unremitting in her attentions to her victim, and would readily have been mistaken for an angel of mercy, instead of the fiend she really was. But the nature of her attentions may be inferred, aside from her confession, from the fact that Mr. Caruthers at this time also took sick, with the same symptoms attending his wife, and was only saved from death by a Presidential overruling of events. Her kind offices were those of the siren to the mariner—the more surely to lead on to destruction.

BROUGHT TO JUDGMENT.

The bringing of Mrs. Grin-der to judgment was the inevitable working of a law immutable as God himself. "The guilty shall not go unpunished." The suddenness of Mrs. Caruthers' death—the peculiar circumstances surrounding it—other suspicious events before thought of but momentarily, now risen to view clothed in garb to attract attention—these, and a thousand other links, each comparatively unimportant in itself, went to make up the chain which should drag to shameful death the guilty creature. Just here, it will suffice to say that, superinduced by a suspicion of foul play, an examination of the body of Mrs. Caruthers was had, which disclosed the presence of a deadly poison, a thousand fingers on the instant sprang to point to Mrs. Grin-der as the guilty agent, and she was speedily arrested and lodged in jail. At first she manifested the utmost indignation, and denied anything and everything; and it may be added, that down to the day before the execution, she was vehement and consistent in declaring that she was innocent.

THE TRIAL.

The trial came on in October, and lasted several days. Both the prosecution and the defense were represented by the ablest talent at this bar. Witness after witness was called and heard, and their combined testimony left no doubt that the prisoner was indeed guilty. The jury had no difficulty in arriving at this decision, and returned the verdict of "guilty of murder in the first degree." The death warrant was duly signed by the Governor, and the 19th January passed as the day for the execution.

THE MENTAL STATUS OF THE PRISONER.

What was the object of the murder? What end did the prisoner hope to accomplish by her deed of infernal cruelty? These questions began to be asked by the curious, and no satisfactory answer appearing, by a system of logic more convenient than correct, it was concluded that she must be insane. To such an extent did this idea obtain, that because a woman had committed a heinous crime, and because the motive of that crime remained hidden from the public view, it therefore followed that she was out of her proper senses at the time of the commission of the deed, and not amenable to the law—to such an extent did this idea obtain, that the authorities at Harrisburg were constrained to send a medical commission to inquire into and decide upon the question of the mental status of the prisoner. This commission consisted of Dr. John Curwin, of the State Lunatic Asylum at Harrisburg, Dr. J. R. Reed, of the Dixmont Insane Hospital, and Dr. James S. King, of this city. The commission visited the prisoner in jail on Tuesday evening last, and again on Wednesday morning. They instituted a most thorough investigation into her moral and mental condition, and, notwithstanding it has been doubted that doctors can agree, were unanimous in declaring that no taint of insanity attached to her. It had been previously agreed by the State authorities that the decision of the commission should be final—that no interference with the course of the law would be had if their finding was adverse to the prisoner.

NO RAY OF HOPE.

On Wednesday, Mrs. Grin-der, who for obvious reasons had been kept in ignorance of the fact that her mental status was being passed upon by the three men, was informed of the commission and of their finding. Up to this time, she had clung to the hope that she would be indefinitely reprieved before the fatal day; but now, for the first time, she fully realized her situation, and began to prepare for death. Her spiritual adviser was the Rev. Dr. Holmes, of the M. E. Church, who labored unceasingly to point her soul to God.

HER CONFESSION.

With the certainty of early death staring her in the face, and well knowing that "only the pure in heart shall see God," is it any wonder that the wretched woman on Thursday made a full confession of her crimes? Her guilt had all along been too apparent to admit of doubt, but by her own admission, what before was a moral certainty was reduced to an absolute certainty, and the public verdict justified. Her confession is in these words:

"PITTSBURG, January 18, 1866.—In view of my departure in a few hours from earth, I want to say that I acknowledge my guilt in the case of Mrs. Caruthers, and also in the case of Miss Buchanan. But I am innocent of all the other charges made against me in the papers for poisoning people. But, bad as I have been, I feel that God, for Christ's sake, has forgiven me, and through His mercy I hope to find an entrance into heaven. I die without any hard feelings toward any one, forgiving all as I hope to be forgiven.

"Mr. Stewart has been very kind to me—doing all in his power to make me comfortable, and I pray that he may be assisted in his duty and be rewarded for his kindness.—Mr. White has also been very kind and has treated me with respect always. May God be good to him.

"If I had been faithful to my Church duties it would have been different with me now; but I am thankful that God is so good as to return to me, now that I do try to come back to Him.

MARTHA GRINDER.

HER OTHER VICTIM.

Miss Buchanan, the other victim referred to, was a young Irish girl whom Mrs. Grin-der had prevailed upon to enter her service as a servant. On the second day after she had taken up her residence in the house, she fell sick, and in four days was a corpse. Mrs. Grin-der professed the greatest concern for her during her illness, and apparently did everything in her power to alleviate her sufferings.—At the same time she was deliberately and systematically administering to her the fatal drug which was surely robbing her of her existence! What the object of the fiend incarnate was in thus murdering this poor, inoffensive girl is not known.—Pending the excitement concerning the murder of Mrs. Caruthers, the remains of Miss Buchanan were disinterred, when a scientific examination discovered the presence of antimony in the stomach.

THE EXECUTION.

At 12.30 o'clock yesterday, the preliminary arrangements for the execution were begun. At that hour the Sheriff visited the cell of the condemned woman, and, with strips of strong muslin, securely pinioned her arms. She professed her readiness to undergo the dread ordeal, saying—"I am ready; Christ will be with me." After a prayer by Dr. Holmes, she was supported to the scaffold. Arriving there, she sat down on a chair, while another prayer was offered up in her behalf. The noose was then adjusted about her neck, the white cap was drawn over her face, and those on the scaffold withdrew. There was a touch of the fatal trigger, a sudden downward plunge of the body, and the woman was hanging midway between heaven and earth. Her soul had gone to the ghostly shades of another world, into the presence of her victims.

THE END.

The woman died of strangulation. The noose caught just forward of the left ear, and so the fall failed to dislocate the neck. She was allowed to hang a half hour, when the physicians pronounced her dead, and she was cut down. At night, the body was removed to Hilldale Cemetery and interred.

And thus perished from off the face of the earth, one who was a fiend—a demon incarnate—a foul blot upon the very name of woman. May we never, never, never look upon her like again. ALPHA.

Harper's Weekly states that, if Congress does not soon modify the taxes—some fifteen in number—levied upon those publishing books in this country, the entire book publishing business of the United States will be transferred to England. It is now much cheaper to print and bind the books in England, and pay the duty on their importation, than it is to print them here. Congress, we trust, will see the necessity of repealing all taxes on knowledge, direct or indirect. It is an on-dit that Mrs. Senator Douglas will shortly be led to the altar by a talented gentleman of Baltimore.

Exit Duncan—Enter M'Con-aughy!

The contested election case from the Franklin Senatorial district, with Calvin M. Duncan, Democrat, as the sitting member, and David M'Conaughy, Republican, contestant for the seat, has just come to a close by the defeat of the former and the triumph of the latter. The report of the select committee to whom was referred the arbitration of the question, gives so clear a view of what was at issue between the parties, that we submit it entire. It will be observed that the Committee recognize the act of Congress disfranchising deserters from the military service as valid and binding:—

"The select committee of the Senate to try the matter of the petition of the electors of the Nineteenth Senatorial district, composed of the counties of Adams and Franklin, complaining of an undue election and false return of Calvin M. Duncan, as Senator elect from said district, report: "That upon the return of said election, Calvin M. Duncan appeared to have received, in said Senatorial district composed of the counties of Adams and Franklin, six thousand one hundred and eighty-eight (6,188) votes, and David M'Conaughy six thousand one hundred and sixty-three (6,163); and the said Calvin M. Duncan was certified to be elected by a majority of twenty-five votes. That upon the hearing of complainants and respondent, your committee do find and report that of the votes received, counted and returned for the said Calvin M. Duncan, ninety-three votes, as claimed by petitioners and admitted by respondent in the pleadings, were cast by deserters from the military service of the United States; and we find that under and by operation of the act of the Congress of the United States, approved the third day of March, A. D. 1865, entitled An act to amend the several acts heretofore passed to provide for the enrolling and calling out of the National forces, and for other purposes, the said deserters so having cast said votes as aforesaid, for said Calvin M. Duncan, were to be deemed and taken to have voluntarily relinquished and forfeited their rights of citizenship, and were not therefore qualified electors of said Senatorial district or of this Commonwealth. Your committee, regarding said act as valid, and knowing no right or power in them to question it, have found the said ninety-three votes so cast as aforesaid, by said deserters, and returned for said Calvin M. Duncan, to be illegal votes, and have therefore deducted the same from the said six thousand one hundred and eighty-eight votes returned for the said Calvin M. Duncan, and have ascertained and do report the whole number of legal votes cast and returned for the said Calvin M. Duncan to be six thousand and ninety-five (6,095); and having deducted the said illegal votes cast and returned for the said Calvin M. Duncan from six thousand one hundred and sixty-three votes (6,163), being the whole number of legal votes cast and returned for the said David M'Conaughy, do find and report the said David M'Conaughy to have received an actual majority of sixty-eight (68) of the whole number of legal votes cast and returned; and your committee do therefore decide and report that the said David M'Conaughy had the greatest number of legal votes, and ought to be admitted to the contested seat as Senator elect from the Nineteenth Senatorial district.

"W. WORTHINGTON, "T. J. BIGHAM, "JAMES L. GRAHAM, "GEORGE LONDON, "J. D. SHOEMAKER, "M. B. LOWMYER."

The report was adopted, and Mr. M'Conaughy duly sworn in as a member of the Senate.

ADVICE TO SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.—The Soldiers and Sailors' National Union League of Washington, D. C., has issued a circular to all honorably discharged soldiers and sailors of our army and navy, which treats upon the subject of discharges from service. Many who served during the whole, or a portion of the war for the suppression of the rebellion, are selling or offering for sale their discharges. It is to be regretted that many of these men are willing for the sake of a few dollars to sell the certificates of the part they have performed in saving our beloved country from destruction, and we unite with the League in begging them to consider well the importance of such a step. The discharge certificate of a soldier or sailor is the only evidence he possesses of having served throughout his term of enlistment with honor untainted by any disgraceful or cowardly act; it will ever be a pass to them for obtaining honest employment, or position in the walks of civil life, and is the only voucher which enables him to claim or receive from time to time such benefits and blessings as a free and grateful people through their Congress, will undoubtedly bestow upon its country's saviors, particularly in their old age.—The League wisely suggests to every honorably discharged soldier and sailor to have his certificate recorded in the county clerk's office of the county wherein he resides, so that in the event of the loss of his discharge in any manner, there will be record evidence of the same.

The last dodge resorted to by sharpers, is that of traveling through towns and collecting jewelry to clean and repair. When watches or rings are entrusted to their hands they disappear with their ill-gotten goods. Beware of them!

The office of Gen. Baker, late chief of the War Department detective force, has been closed, and the records have been turned over to the Department.
