

To Elie T. R.

Thou wast an artless child when first I gazed upon thy laughing eyes...

I saw thee as the hand of Time Unfolded each sweet maiden grace...

I saw the opening buds unfold Until the perfect flower came forth...

I did not dream that I should learn To feel so deep a love for thee...

Upon the altar of my heart There trembled into life a fire...

This love sprang up spontaneously, The native offspring of the soul...

I'll cherish it—it is too sweet To perish in a fleeting hour...

Barr, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, has been subjected to a very severe fire which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This safe, containing all my money, and some of my neighbors' and representing a value of over Twenty Dollars, ($20.00) was in my Mill, and was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordeal unscathed. The safe was on the second and fell to the basement of the Mill, and subjected for six hours to an intense among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of confined within the brick walls. As fire the safe was opened and the contents taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being scorched. This fact was, however, to mark upon a better recommendation of your safe, could be expressed in any other manner. Yours Respectfully, SAMUEL BARR
