THE PRESS IN EBENSBURG.—We last week gave some description of the issue of the Olive Branch of June 3, 1819.— We have another copy of this old paper before us, of date December 23, 1819.

The first thing which strikes us as being worthy of note in the latter issue is an announcement put forth by the editor, stating that "in consequence of the embarassments of the times, the enormous prices of every article for family consumption in this section of the country, the depreciated state of the local currency, and a variety of other causes," he is constrained to increase his advertising charge. He therefore gives notice that from after that date all advertisements will be charged for at the rate of $1.50 per line (three insertions)—an increase from former prevailing price of fifty per cent follow a few words "to a correspondent," which, in these days of railroad telegraphs, with New York our neighbor, will read strange things. The rule of conduct laid down here, however, is in the abstract good, and might, with great propriety be extensively applied at the present day:

We must be excused from publishing an article lately received, relative to New York news. We are at too great a distance to draw any inference on the people of that state, and we are unwilling to occupy our columns with articles relative to Vice President Tompkins and Mr. McIntyre. The people of this state of the country, to whom our columns are devoted, feel no interest in the dispute.
Some time since we gave our opinion in regard to De Witt Clinton and the election in New York, and advised a certain gentleman "to travel out of the state to remark that he knows nothing about it; we are willing to take the same advice ourself. The editor acknowledges the receipt of Gov. Finley's annual message, and regrets that he cannot publish it.

Through the friendship and politeness of William E. Esq., one of our representatives to the general assembly at Harrisburg, we have obtained a copy of the governor's message to the senate and house of representatives of this Commonwealth, and are extremely sorry that our limits will not allow us to present it to our readers this week, or give a summary of its contents. It is interesting, and we are pleased to find it particularly recommends to the consideration of the legislature, the necessity of making appropriations for the completion of canals, roads, and connecting the lakes and waters with the eastern, so as to form an advantageous and perfect system of intercommunication, and thereby bring into actual operation all the advantages of the state.

President Madison's annual message is issued in full, covering six columns of paper. It is devoted to the discussion of state questions of that day, including the question of the cession by Spain to the United States of the territory of Florida, and that of the civil war then existing in this hemisphere between Spain and the Spanish provinces. The President touches upon the subject of the people's embarrassments affecting the country, and gives some good advice in connection. To the end of relieving manufacturing interest from the general depression, and so benefiting the country at large, he favors the enactment of a high protective tariff. "It is deemed of great importance," he says, "to give encouragement to our domestic manufacture. The "turnpike money," which was growing better some time back, which threatened to "rival in credit of the bank notes in circulation," appears to have suddenly gone under; and there is a communication in the paper, by "A Holder of Turnpike Orders," complaining that the managers of turnpikes do not redeem in par money the promises to pay. "At this time," the writer says, "there are very great disturbances against them, and the citizens are commonly distressed on account of turnpike orders getting at once out of circulation." An explanation is called for by the managers, which we hope was satisfactory.

Among the advertisements is one of Robert Knox, who offers for sale "a well known tavern and store stand" in Huntingdon county, (now Blair county.) John Dougherty, tailor and shoemaker, gives notice that he is carrying on business in Ebensburg; "being instructed in the new mathematical compass rule, he hopes by strict attention to merit a share of the public favor." Mr. Dougherty, we may say in passing, still waits on customers in the tailoring and habit-making line of "William Smyth offers for sale a tract of land containing 400 acres, situate in Cambria township, nearly midway between Ebensburg and Munster.— The "course of exchange" and the "price current" for Philadelphia, Dec. 4, 1819, are given. A meeting of the "Cambrian Bible and Tract Society" is called for New Year's day, at 10 o'clock, a. m., at the house of Thomas Croly; the call is signed by A. Hildebrand, President of the society. Several other advertisements, of a general character, also appear throughout the columns.

The uniform fate of seven-eighths of all printers befel Thomas Foley in the end —he "broke up!" Bearing in mind the singular pecuniary fatality attending "the craft" in all ages and all climes, it is not with surprise, but it is certainly with exceeding great regret, that we read the following melancholy announcement:

"To my Creditors.—Take notice that I have applied to the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas in and for the county of Cambria for the benefit of the laws made for the relief of insolvent debtors, and they have appointed Tuesday, the 18th day of January next, to hear me and my creditors, at the court house in Ebensburg, at which time and place you may attend if you think proper.

THOMAS FOLEY.
"Ebensburg Goal, Dec. 15, 1819." And thus vanished the rose-tinted hues and the dazzling prospects which had lured the adventurous typographer with his printing-press to this "western country!" In the Ebensburg goal—an insolvent debtor—praying for relief from the Court! Truly, hope, which with a goodly prospect had fed the eye, proved a base, deceptive flatterer to the soul of Foley!

—We are indebted to our friend Reese Jno. Lloyd, Esq., for the two copies of the Olive Branch from which we have quoted. He has also furnished us with copies of the Somerset Whig, the Huntingdon Monitor and Gazette, the Indiana American, the Philadelphia Franklin Gazette, the Baltimore Patriot & Mercantile Advertiser and Federal Republican & Telegraph, and the City of Washington Gazette, all published during the years 1819 and 1820.

OBITUARY.—It was with deep regret that we last week announced the death of Philip S. Noon, Esq., late District Attorney for this county. The deceased was the youngest and only remaining son of the late Judge Noon, well known throughout the county, he having successively filled the offices of Sheriff, County Treasurer, Assemblyman, Prothonotary and Associate Judge. The subject of this sketch was born in 1835, and after having studied law for two years in the office of R. L. Johnston, Esq., was in 1856 admitted to practice his profession in the Courts of this county. In 1859, he was elected on the Democratic ticket to the office of District Attorney for the county, and was re-elected by the same party in 1862. Just previous to retiring from this position, at the last December Court, he was seized with a violent hemorrhage of the lungs. Although his constitution was naturally robust, it gradually yielded to the inroads of disease, until, on Wednesday, the 7th, his mortal career was closed in death.

Mr. Noon was a man of good education, rare intellectual and argumentative endowments, and suavity of manner combined with great tenacity of purpose.— Though only thirty years of age, he had acquired no common reputation in his profession, and also as a debater and orator. Had his life been spared, he would doubtless have arisen to posts of profit, trust, and honor. But he lies like the mighty oak, scarcely less majestic in its prostration than when it stood erect reaching toward the heavens.

A SIGNIFICANT SIGN.—Seeing that the Johnstown Tribune was one of the first papers, if not the very first paper, in Pennsylvania to raise the name of Andy Johnson to its mast-head for Vice President in 1864, and not forgetting that the "eminent Tennessean" would hardly have secured the nomination, to say nothing of the after-recurring election, in the absence of the support of the Tribune, we take it to be one of the most significant signs of the times, and indicative of the deep-seated sense of the masses in the premises, that this same Tribune is now found in violent opposition to Andy Johnson's plan of reconstruction, and battling valiantly in defence of the policy adopted and maintained by Congress.

ECLIPSE.—There will be a total eclipse of the moon, visible throughout the United States, on the evening of March 30th.
In addition to this, the announcement might here be made, that until further notice, an eclipse of "high prices" will come off at J. M. Thompson's store, Ebensburg, every day and night of the week, Sundays excepted. Go and see!

DIED.—On Wednesday evening, Feb.
28th, of a lingering illness, Miss Maggie Sway, in the 26th year of her age. [Lines "In Memoriam" crowded out.]

COURT PROCEEDINGS.—We submit an abstract of the proceedings in the Court of Quarter Sessions of Cambria county last week:

On Monday, March 5, Constables qualified as to their returns, and Constables elect sworn in.

Comth. vs. John Ashkum—assault and battery. A true bill. Continued.

true bill. District Attorney on leave enters a nolle prosequi, and defendant discharged.

and Lucinda Rinebolt to pay costs, &c.

Comth. vs. John Hupper and Charles Dishart—rescue. A true bill. Not guilty, and county to pay the costs.

Comth. vs. Andrew Carl—assault and battery. A true bill. Settled.

Comth. vs. Joseph Storm—robbery. A true bill. This defendant was charged, with Michael Phalon, (the latter not taken,) with perpetrating a robbery upon Mr. Henry Hopple, on the Carrolltown road, in September last. Jury called and sworn, who find him not guilty.

Comth. vs. Wm. R. Hughes—passing counterfeit money. A true bill. District Attorney enters a nolle prosequi.

Comth. vs. William Hall—fornication and bastardy. A true bill. Settled.

Comth. vs. Michael O'Brien, Albert Gay and Jacob Blacklock—riot. A true bill. Blacklock pleads not guilty; the other defendants not taken. These will be remembered as the parties who broke open the barber-shop in Johnstown on Sunday, 24th December last, and committed sundry other excesses. Jury called and sworn, who find Blacklock guilty.
Remanded for sentence.

Comth. vs. James Rodgers—selling liquor on Sunday. A true bill. Defendant pleads guilty and submits. Sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and undergo an imprisonment of ten days in the county jail.

Comth. vs. Charles Robinson—murder.
A true bill. The circumstances attending the Holmes tragedy are yet fresh in the minds of our readers, and it will be remembered that Robinson was indicted conjointly with John Gore on the charge of having produced the death of the unfortunate policeman. Gore was tried on the charge at last sessions, found guilty of murder in the second degree, and sentenced to twelve years imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary. Jury called and sworn in Robinson's case, who find him not guilty.

Comth. vs. Jacob Blacklock—bigamy.
A true bill. The defendant is the individual who lately seduced a young woman of Johnstown to run off with him to Harrisburg, where the twain were married, he at the same time having a wife in Somerset. Jury called and sworn, who find him guilty. Remanded for sentence.

Comth. vs. Lewis R. Jones—keeping a tippling house. A true bill. Defendant pleads guilty and submits. Sentenced to pay a fine of $20 and costs.

Comth. vs. Peter Burn—malicious mischief. Acquitted on the ground of insanity. A case of assault and battery against same defendant disposed of in like manner.

Argument Court appointed for Tuesday, 3d April.

OUR JOHNSTOWN LETTER.
A NEW SENSATION—MYSTERY SOLVED—ARREST OF A MAN FOR ROBBERIES COMMITTED DURING A SERIES OF FOUR YEARS—ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO COMMIT SUICIDE—ACCIDENTS, INCIDENTS, AND NEWS ITEMS.

Johnstown, March 11, 1866.
Dear Alleg: A "case" turned up here this morning, which has created more than ordinary excitement, inasmuch as it has elucidated a mystery which has for a long time baffled the efforts of persons immediately interested to solve. A property adjoining the P. O., owned by John Hornick, has been rented to various parties within the past four years, as a store room, Hornick's family occupying the upper story. Some five different firms have done business in this building, succeeding each other, and they all complained that they suffered losses. Messrs.
Strayer & Varner, at present occupying the building in the grocery line, have noticed for some time back, that their stock was being depleted faster than the amount of goods sold would warrant, but all their efforts were unavailing to find out the cause. On Tuesday last, Mr.
Varner, by accident, discovered a neatly arranged trap by which a plank beneath a back window, and over the cellar door, could be lowered, and as it opened beneath the end of the counter, detection seemed impossible. The first step was now gained, and a watch was set upon the store, to discover who the "operator" might be, and this morning about 10 o'clock, Messrs.
Haynes & Varner, who were on guard, discovered the man Hornick entering by the trap and making for the till. He was taken charge of, and his house immediately searched. Goods were found in his possession which bore the cost mark of a firm who occupied the store four years ago. One firm lost $300, another $160, still another broke up. Mrs. Hornick and an adopted daughter were arrested as accomplices and the whole party furnished with apartments in the lock-up. They will be sent up to await their trial for grand larceny.

Another case of attempted suicide occurred here on Saturday evening. A man named Stearn fastened himself to a hoop skirt which was hanging on a fence, and strange as it may appear, was rapidly being suffocated, when policeman M'Dole happened to pass, and discovered him. It is supposed that he was under the influence of liquor when he attempted to commit the deed.

Alice Andrews, an operative in the Woolen Factory, had her arm and hand badly lacerated the other day by being caught in a carding machine. The flesh was torn in shreds from her arm, and the pain has been so severe that she has been under the influence of frequent spasms since.

The "heaters" employed in the rolling mill have quit work on account of two of their number having been discharged.— This has occasioned the stoppage of the rail mill. The heaters avow their determination to hold out until these men are re-employed, and thus the matter rests at present.

The police are on the track of a couple of men who tried to shove poorly executed $10 greenbacks last week. At one store, they bought a handkerchief and tendered a counterfeit in payment. The salesman went back in the store to send the proprietor for the police, but the shover smelt a nice and bolted.

There was a freight smash up near Portage station on Friday evening, by which the passenger train west was detained a few hours. Nobody killed nor hurt.

The lot of ground adjoining the Methodist church, known as the "Arentrue property," was bought by the trustees of that church for the sum of $3,000. The old building will be torn down, and a large edifice erected instead. It will be the largest in town.

The carpenter work on the new Presbyterian church is completed, and the building will be dedicated the coming month.

The news of the death of Phil S. Noon, Esq., was received here by his many friends with feelings of sincere regret.— Few young men were more universally beloved than he, and his loss will be felt for years to come. Requiescat in pace!
Yours, &c., D. D.

DIED.—At her residence, in Ebensburg, on Sunday, 11th instant, Margaret, wife of Thomas J. Lloyd, aged about 25 years.
The deceased was the embodiment of those virtues and graces which we look for in the true Christian, and which so strongly endear the possessor to those around. Her death will be universally regretted.

—On Monday last, at his residence, in Ebensburg, Frederick Hart, aged about 50 years.

The weather is once more pleasant and spring-like.

MR. R. E. SELLERS:—Dear Sir:—I am entirely out of your "Imperial Cough Syrup." Will you send me, say six dozen. I do not want to be out of it, as it is the only medicine that will cure the worst coughing I have had that cure the worst coughing I have had I have recommended it to persons and given them one bottle on trial, and in every case they have given clear testimony that it gave immediate relief.
I have used it in my own family, and find it a sure cure for coughs and colds of all classes. One trial will convince any person that it is a sure cure for the worst of coughs and colds. Yours, etc.,

THE ABOVE IS STRONG TESTIMONY, and offered cough medicine of the day.

THE GREAT CURATIVE.
Pittsburg, April, 1856.
R. E. SELLERS:—I have been troubled with a cough for the last ten years, by reason of which I have frequently been unable to sleep more than half the night. I tried many remedies but all in vain. I heard of your Cough Syrup and resolved to try it, and now state that the use of a few bottles has cured me entirely. I cheerfully recommend it as a safe, speedy and pleasant cure for coughs and colds.
Respectfully,

MRS. R. E. SELLERS & Co. This is to walk. Being in the Postoffice, about two months ago, Mr. Clark observed my crippled condition, and urged me to try a bottle of God, and the use of half a bottle of your "Compound," I am free from all symptoms of rheumatism, and can walk without the aid of my staff, as well as ever.
