Johnstown would be as little known as Stonetown for Huntingdon, Akestown for Williamsburg. Fort Pitt for Pittsburg, or any of the nicknames to which new towns are subject, but which they lose as they grow into importance. It appears, however, that a part of the citizens of Conemaugh are desirous to perpetuate the nickname, and for that purpose have applied to the Legislature. . . . The name of Conemaugh is original, appropriate and distinctive, which Johnstown is not. We hope the Legislature will not interfere.

A statement showing the net amount offices in Cambria county for one year ending March 31, 1833, is published .--Ebensburg contributed $399.42; Conemaugh, $222.08; Munster, $83.58; Summit, $42.27; Loretto, $40.30; Wilmore,

$18.43; Roseland, $8.15. The Sky of June 26, 1834, appears in mourning for the death of La Fayette, the last of the generals of the Revolution. Expedition in 1835 is defined by the Sky as follows :

"The President's Message (President Jackson's annual Message to Congress) was carried by express from Washington to New York in twelve hours and a half."

The following sketch is interesting : "Mails .- The enterprising Mail Contractors, Colder & Wilson, and Moore & Co., have commenced their new arrangements on this route. One line of stages now runs through between Philadelphia and Pittsburg, carrying only six passengers, in three days, starting every day from each point ; and an accomodation stage in four and a half days, starting from each point every second day. We wish them much success, and have no doubt their exertions to please the public will deserve it. "The rapid increase in the number of mail routes, and in the frequency and expedition of transporting mails, within a few years past, must be pleasing to all as exhibiting a corresponding increase in the business and the improvements of the country. Many of the people in this county recoilect when there was no mail route through the county and no post office in it. All their information of what was going forward in the world was obtained from the casual travelers on a very mitted, brought intelligence from the east every second weeek. Then came the weekly stage, and now we have the news daily, and twice a day every second day.

"Although placed in the western part of Pennsylvania, we now receive our intelligence from New York on the morning of the fourth day, and from every part of the Union in a very few days more. This is the consequence of the improved state of the roads, which enables the stages to pass over them with rapidity, and the encreased business of the country which requires expedition and justifies it.

"Connected with this subject, it is worthy of remark that when the first newspaper was commenced, not many years since, in the adjoining county of Huntingdon, there was then no mail carried into that county. The editor depended for his stock of news upon the papers brought as wrappers by the merchants
