THE PRESS IN EBENSBURG.—The public career of William B. Conway, as known to the writer hereof, commenced in 1835, as editor of the Pittsburgh American Mountaineer. This paper was the foundation of what is now known as the Pittsburgh Daily Post. In the fall of 1836, Conway removed to Johnstown, where he established The Mountaineer. The climate of Johnstown, however, appears to have been congenial to his tastes, for after having resided only some six or eight numbers of the paper there, he packed up his press and shipped it to Ebensburg. The first number of the Mountaineer as an Ebensburg journal was issued late in 1836 or early in 1837. Its publication was continued by Conway for the period of one year.

Conway was a Democrat in politics, and most violent partisan. He made himself notorious by the bitterness of his denunciation of all opponents, and was continually embroiled in fights and fierce discussions. He was prosecuted for libel at least once during his brief sojourn here. In lampooning his enemies, he did not confine himself to the use of plain prose, but ever and anon called in the aid of the muses and fabricated poetry. We print on our first page to-day a poetical invective against a "Bribed Legislator," written by Conway, which, regarded as mere maladroit eloquence, has rarely if ever been equaled. The denunciation of the "bribed legislator" in these lines is scorching—"The man who takes a bribe would strip the dead, Grab the orphan of his crust of bread; Rob to justice, equity and right, The man would steal the aged widow's mite; Well prepared for every kind of fraud, Would sell his country, or betray his God, Filigree the palace of the King of Kings, Or strip the gliding from an angel's wings!" While the anathema which follows—the editorial anathema maranatha—breathes the spirit of malevolence incarnate.

It is related of Conway, that while engaged in the composition of an article requiring deep thought, he was wont to provide himself with a cup of strong coffee, which, when his pen was idle, he would industriously sip, as a stimulant to his mental faculties. As before stated, he carried on the Mountaineer for one year. Soon after, he removed to Iowa, where he was made Secretary of State under the administration of a Governor whose name we have forgotten. He died in one of the Western States. Messrs. S. Seely and S. Glessner succeeded Conway in the Mountaineer. The first number printed by these gentlemen (Vol. 2 No. 1) was issued June 20, 1838. September 17th, following, Mr. Glessner retired from the concern, Mr. Seely remaining as editor. In the list of persons authorized to act as agents for the Mountaineer at this time, we discover the name of Jeremiah S. Black, Esq., of Somerset. J. S. B. was afterwards President Buchanan's Attorney-General; but whether his political advancement was owing to his intimate connection with the Mountaineer or not, cannot be said. Mr. Seely continued to publish the paper till April 4, 1839, when he retired, and was succeeded by Thomas Lloyd.

In size, the Mountaineer was a trifle smaller than The Alleghanian. It was an ably edited and a well printed sheet. Its motto was an extract from Washington's Farewell Address—"In proportion as the structure of a government gives force to public opinion, it is essential that public opinion should be enlightened." Mr. Seely is at present living in Washington city; Mr. Glessner is in Ohio.

ALMOST AN ACCIDENT.—On Sunday morning last, a mishap occurred to the Catholic church in Loretto, which, though fortunately not very serious in its results, was yet a narrow escape from a fearful catastrophe. At 11 o'clock, a great storm came up, accompanied by wind and rain, and when at its greatest height, the foundations of the church gave way, and the building sank down a couple of inches, with a creaking, groaning sound, as though the whole fabric were on the point of toppling over. The church was crowded to nearly its utmost capacity at the time, and the entire congregation became panicked and made a rush for the doors and windows. In the fearful jam which necessarily ensued, a number of persons were more or less injured, but none seriously. The church did not fall, but yet remains standing. Had it fallen, the loss of life must have been fearful.

ETCHINGS.—On Friday last, Adam Cramer, of Burrell tp., Indiana county, committed suicide by hanging. This is fourth suicide occurring in that county within a period of three months....The Tyrone Hemisphere has busted. Cause why—it didn't pay....A. C. Mullin, Esq., during the winter a denizen of the city of brotherly love, has returned to Ebensburg, with his family, to live. He is welcome back....Dr. Thomas St. Clair is a candidate for the nomination for Congress in the Indiana district....A base ball club was formed in Huntingdon last week....The Governor has signed the death warrant of Probst, the murderer of the Deering family in Philadelphia. He will be hanged on the 8th June....The clerk at the Kane House, Huntingdon, received a telegram from Erie a few days since, with Col. Morrison's name attached—the Col. is the landlord of the house—requesting him to express him $100 to that place immediately. The clerk forwarded the money as directed, and in a couple of days found out that the telegram was a forgery and that he had been neatly diddled out of the greenbacks.

THE CAMBRIA COUNTY BAR.—Says the Johnstown Democrat: The last ten years have made many changes in the members of the Cambria county Bar.—Within that period there have died, Chas. H. Heyer, Edward Hutchinson, Charles D. Murray, James C. Noon, (killed at Fredericksburg,) Michael Dan Magehan, and Philip S. Noon. To these may be added the names of the Hon. Moses Canan and Abraham Morrison, both of whom had retired from practice a number of years before leaving the "shores of time." Judge Canan died in 1863, aged over 70 years. Mr. Morrison died in 1865, having attained the advanced age of 93 years—or more. Within the period named, the following attorneys have removed from the county: S. C. Wingard, Charles Albright, Charles W. Wingard, Joseph H. Campbell, Wm. A. Murray, T. L. Heyer, and Jared Williams, the latter soon after his admission. Notwithstanding the large number of deaths and removals, Cambria county can still boast of twenty-six lawyers, eleven of whom are located in Johnstown, and fifteen, including R. A. M'Coy, at present Gov. Curtin's Private Secretary, in Ebensburg. PHOTOGRAPHY.—The undersigned is prepared to give instructions in the Photography business. Price for instruction, $25. Further particulars can be obtained by addressing E. A. Bonine, Altoona, Pa.

OUR JOHNSTOWN LETTER.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT—A MAN DROWNED—VARIOUS IMPROVEMENTS—A DREADED AND DREADEFUL VISITOR—POLICE.

JOHNSTOWN, May 14, 1866. Dear Alleg.: On Sunday morning last, the body of an old man named Francis Gallagher was found at the river's edge, immediately opposite the high stack or chimney of the rolling mill. He had evidently been drowned, as one-half his body, including his head, was in the water, which was about fourteen inches deep. On inquiry, we learned the following particulars: The deceased, who was 60 or 70 years old, lived with his daughter, who was married, in that part of Millville known as Minersville. On Saturday afternoon, as was his wont, he came to town to buy some marketing, and as we learn from a friend who escorted him part of the way home, drank pretty freely during the evening. He started home about half-past seven o'clock. He had some fresh fish with him, and it is supposed that, falling down and dragging them in the dust, he went to the river to wash them, when he toppled over head-first into the water and perished. A melancholy fact connected with the sad affair is that the daughter, becoming alarmed at the protracted absence of her father, made search for him and was the first to discover his lifeless remains. An inquest was held, and a verdict rendered in accordance with these facts.

The excavation is completed and the stone work in progress for the new Company stores, immediately below the present buildings occupied for that purpose by the Company. The new structures will be of brick, and will be the largest and handsomest in town. The railroad from the rolling mill by way of the woolen factory to Conemaugh is nearly completed. It is characteristic of the advancement of the age that the route traversed, over which the iron horse now hourly rushes, was a few years ago the site of the canal, with its locks, and dams, and fleet of ark-like packet boats.

Small-pox has again broken out here, though I know as yet of only one family afflicted by the dreadful disease. The police promptly closed up the place of business of this family. The usual number of "cases" were before our chief magistrate for arbitration during the week, and the borough was the recipient of about the usual amount of revenue arising from fines, &c. D. D.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION.—Dear Alleghanian: Several new candidates for political honors at the approaching Dem. Co. Convention have loomed into view since my last. Capt. James Murray, of Ebensburg, signifies his entire willingness to accept the nomination for Associate Judge and to serve in that capacity if elected. D. T. Storm, of Ebensburg, has also become an aspirant for the same office. In this connection, it may not be amiss to mention that Michael Hasson, of Ebensburg, purposes dissolving partnership with the law and politics, and so will hardly consent to allow his name before the Convention in connection with the nomination for Ass. Judge. I have not heard, as yet, that Maj. James Potts, of Johnstown, is a New County candidate for the Legislature. OBSERVER. Died.—At the residence of his parents, 10 Indiana county, on the 5th instant, Dr. J. T. Adair, during the last year of the war Surgeon of the 77th regiment P. V., aged about 30 years. Go to J. M. Thompson's Cheap Cash Store, Ebensburg, for neat and stylish Spring Goods. Everybody buys there.

JOHNSON'S RHEUMATIC COMPOUND

FOUND! No medicine for the cure of Rheumatism has ever attained to such a high degree of favor and universality as

JOHNSON'S RHEUMATIC COMPOUND. Although but one year before the public, this medicine has justly gained an unbounded popularity. When the originator first introduced it, he was convinced of its efficacy, but he little supposed it was destined to prove such an inestimable blessing to the afflicted. But "true merit" cannot be suppressed.—The attestation of hundreds who have been cured by its use, must prove the truth of the assertion, "THAT IT IS A RADICAL CURATIVE"

FOR INFLAMMATORY AND ACUTE RHEUMATISM, GOUT, NEURALGIA, AND KINDRED DISEASES.

We recommend it with confidence as THE GREAT INTERNAL REMEDY, For the Speedy and Positive Cure of the above Complaints.

MESSRS. R. E. SELLERS & Co: This is to certify that for the last sixteen years I have been severely afflicted with rheumatism, often confined to my house, and even unable to walk. Being in the Postoffice, about two months ago, Mr. Clark observed my crippled condition, and urged me to try a bottle of "Johnson's Rheumatic Compound." I followed his advice and now, by the blessing of God, and the use of half a bottle of your "Compound," I am free from all symptoms of rheumatism, and can walk without the aid of my staff, as well as ever. Every year thousands of children die from this horrid evil. This alarming mortality loudly calls for increased watchfulness, and greater care in the selection of the remedy.

LET PHYSICIANS SPEAK! SELLERS' VERMIFUGE THE BEST IN USE—HERE IS THE PROOF.

Licking Station, Ky., Dec. 14, 1845. Mr. R. E. SELLERS—Your Vermifuge possesses more virtue than any I ever used. I will state a case where I gave one vial. My brother's child was pining and wasting to a mere skeleton. In thirty-six hours after I gave the Vermifuge, the enormous quantity of upward of six hundred worms were passed. The child that was given up for lost, is now as well as any in the neighborhood. AMBROSE ARNETT, M. D.
