Chenshuca Meghanian,

BARKER, Editor and Proprietor. OD HUTCHINSON, Publisher.

Ebensburg.

Susq'han.

Gallitzin.

Johnst'wn

Washt'n.

Loretto.

Munster.

Susq'han.

Clearfield

Richland.

Washt'n,

Croyle.

Washt'n.

S'merhill.

White.

I WOULD RATHER BE RIGHT THAN PRESIDENT .- HENRY CLAY.

TERMS: { $3.00 PER ANNUM: $2.00 IN ADVANCE.

LUME 7.

EBENSBURG, PA., THURSDAY, JUNE 21, 1866.

ST OF POST OFFICES. Districts. Post Masters. Steven L. Evans, Carroll. Henry Nutter, A. G. Crooks, Chest. Taylor. Washint'n.

R. H. Brown, John Thompson, C. Jeffries, Peter Garman, J. M. Christy, Wm Tiley, Jr., E. Roberts, M. Adlesberger,

A. Durbin, M. J. Platt, Stan. Wharton, George Berkey, A. Shoemaker, B. F. Slick, Wm. M'Connell, J. K. Shryock,

TROMES, MINISTERS, &c. rian-REV. T. M. WILSON, Pastor .every Sabbath morning at 104 nd in the evening at 7 o'clock. Sabat 9 o'clock, A. M. Prayer meet-Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. t Episcopal Church-Rev. A. BAKER, in charge. Rev. J. PERSHING, As-Preaching every alternate Sabbath 110 o'clock. Sabbath School at 9 M. Prayer meeting every Wednes-

Independent-REV LL. R. POWELL, Preaching every Sabbath morning at ck, and in the evening at 6 o'clock. School at I o'clock, P. M. Prayer on the first Monday evening of each and on every Tuesday, Thursday and vening, excepting the first week in tic Methodist-Rev. Morgan Ellis, Preaching every Sabbath evening at rayer meeting every Friday evening, k. Society every Tuesday evening

REV. W. LLOYD, Pastor .- Preach Sabbath morning at 10 o'clock. er Baptists-REV. DAVID EVANS, reaching every Sabbath evening at Sabbath School at at 1 o'clock, P. M. -REV. R. C. CHRISTY, Pastor .every Sabbath morning at 104 o'clock pers at 4 o'clock in the evening.

EBENSBURG MAILS. MAILS ARRIVE.

9.25 o'clock, A. M daily, at 9.35 o'clock P. M. " at MAILS CLOSE.

8 o'clock, P. M daily, at 8 o'clock, P. M. The mails from Grant, Carrolltown, rrive on Monday, Wednesday and f each week, at 3 o'clock, P. M. Ebensburg on Tuesdays, Thursdays rdays, at 9 o'clock, A. M.

HEROAD SCHEDULE.

CRESSON STATION. alt. Express leaves at 8.25 A. M 9.23 A. M. ila. Express 9.52 A. M. lew York Exp. 9.54 P. M. Fast Line 7.52 P. M. hay Express Altoona Accom. " 4.32 P. M. 8.40 P. M. hila. Express 2.20 A. M. Fast Line 7.16 A. M. Day Express 1.55 P. M. incianati Ex. 1.21 P. M. Altoona Accom.

COUNTY OFFICERS. of the Courts-President Hon. Geo.

intingdon; Associates, George W. nry C. Devine. try-Geo. C. K. Zahm. and Recorder-James Griffin. Attorney .- John F. Barnes.

mmissioners-John Campbell, Ed. s. E. R. Dunnegan. Commissioners-William H. Sech-

-Barnabas M'Dermit. se Directors-George M'Cullough is, Joseph Dailey. use Treasurer-George C. K. Zahm -Fran. P. Fierney, Jno. A. Kenannal Brallier.

Surveyor .- Henry Scanlan. - William Flattery. tile Appraiser - John Cox. of Common Schools-J. F. Condon.

BURG BOR. OFFICERS. AT LARGE.

James A. Moore. f the Peace-Harrison Kinkead. ectors-D. W. Evans, J. A. Moore, Nis, David J. Jones, William M.

Treasurer-Geo. W. Oatman. Council-Saml. Singleton. ommissioner-David Davis. EAST WARD.

uncil-A. Y. Jones, John O. Evans is, Charles Owens, R. Jones, jr. -Thomas Todd. Election-Wm. D. Davis. rs-David E. Evans, Danl. J. Davis.

07-Thomas J. Davis. nuncil-John Lloyd, Samuel Stiles, Kinkead, John E. Scanlan, George

Barnabas M'Dermit. f Election .- John D. Thomas.

ore.-William H. Sechler, George W.

Joshua D. Parrish.

SOCIETIES, &c.

-Summit Lodge No. 312 A. Y. M.

F.-Highland Lodge No. 428 I. O. ets in Odd Fellows' Hall, Ebensburg, dnesday evening. Highland Division No. 84 Sons of ince meets in Temperance Hall, Eb-

every Saturday evening. S OF SUBSCRIPTION

"THE ALLEGHANIAN :" $2.00 IN ADVANCE,

IN NOT PAID IN ADVANCE.

The Soldier's Revenge.

This golden legend first was told When Swedes and Danes were foes of old. One morn the Swedes gave way so soon The battle ended at the noon. Two foes lay sweltering on the sand, Each wounded by the other's hand. The Swede exclaimed, "Oh! day accurst, That sees a soldier die of thirst." The Dane replied, with anguish wrung,

"My water-flask shall cool thy tongue.

"I filled it at a mountain spring ;

Drink thou to Denmark and the King ! "But precious less if any drips: So hold it steady to thy lips !" The Swede replied, "If thee I kill, The flask is mine to drink my fill !" Then, drawing poignard from his girth, He struck a blow, but stabbed the earth. The Dane exclaimed, "Oh! wretched Ewede, How durst thou try so base a deed! "By heaven! I take revenge, oh! knave," Then snatching back the flask he gave. "Thirst thou!" he cried, "while I shall quaff; Thy throat shall swallow only half! "But curse thy loss, oh ! dastard soul, ...

I meant to bid thee drink the whole.' The King of Denmerk overheard, And smiling at the deed and word, Proclaimed in front of all his train, "I dub thee knight, oh ! noble Dane." Uprose a noise of Danish cheers -Heard yet through twice a hundred years.

So every hero Lath rewardclock. Sabbath School at If o'clock, Of men, of kings, or of the Lord !

THE GROCER'S STORY.

Ours was a quiet street at most times a lazy, shady place, where the green blinds were forever closed, and where there was so little passing that spears of grass grew here and there between the flagstones, and the stone curbs of the iron but late one autumn afternoon a strange cry sounded through it, which awakened all its echoes, and called curious faces to the doors and windows.

"Stop thief! stop thief!" The strong voice of a policeman utof two boys at play near by took it up and repeated it, and by-and-by there was a were of the language; to be the ery of men who hunted something.

Policemen with their clubs, errand their arms, young gentlemen just released | quite on into the winter. from the academy close at hand, and violent oaths, that they would have him a fancy to them.'

apparently in soliloquy: hope they won't catch him."

much of the safety of a woman.

white hair, like the tonsure of a Roman | and said to myself, 'It's well that keeping | pay you afterwards."

Masonic Hall, Ebensburg, on the passed, and he had hungry, desperate looking at the nooks where the name lesday of each month, at 71 o'clock, eyes that looked like theft, and murder, as well as though I had seen him. too, for that matter."

> "And yet you wish .him to escape, when he has broken the laws of the land, for it was his duty to be upon that beat | you more than I blame you.' and will probably do so again ?"

the laws," said the old grocer. "Good those bright, wolfish eyes of his. I didn't me, and I took him by the arm and led men made them, and they are right; but like it, though I could not have said why. him back to the shop. There I filled a there are other laws that I read in my A vessel had been wrecked at sea about basket with bread and butter and coffee, old Bible Surday nights, that seem to be that time, and an extra, with the latest and put the ham on top of all. 'Take it ried to his son." as binding. One of them is-'Do unto news of the disaster, came out that even- home to your wife,' I said, 'you'll pay me others as you would that others should do ing. I bought a paper and sat down when you get your salary, and if you are unto you; and another, 'Love thy neigh- behind the counter to read it. It was a in need before that come to me. I'm a Railroad trains.

go beyond the limits of the law either.

pocket picked, will go home to a fine goods or put up my shutters. dinner and a bottle of wine, no doubt, and wouldn't have him hunted down to-night-I vow I wouldn't.

struggle to make my little shop keep my | my arm. little family. It was only by pinching only very poor customers. A loaf of

and most of those who came wanted trust. the blackguard." "As for laying in fine fruit or vegetamonds would have been as saleable in that at my hams. part of the city, where washerwomen and the poorest laboring men were the arisbread, a quarter of a pound of butter, and of these, and, charging the next thing to a sup of whisky for the information?" off faster after every stock of damaged ery moment.

down to rest at night. bloody.

"It was just as the December nights kept the crowd a long way off, and made him, and wondering whether he had been | woman. the burliest of his pursuers pant for breath. | ill or not. The first time that I noticed | They were out of sight in a moment, him, was about sunset, and he passed and still. but in a little while the cry was heard repassed my window a dozen times, looktering angrily or swearing, with many he did, for he seems to have taken quite to do such a disgraceful thing as this?"

himself by asserting that he knew the side of the way, looking across with his ed terribly. could hear for the poor, degraded wretch somehow made sure of it that whenever I had nothing for them !" who had purloined it, until a placid voice I saw a decent looking woman go by with at my elbow uttered the following words, a basket on her arm, I said, 'That's the starve," I said with a sneer. "Then you don't believe he picked the that night; but long after everything had ground. been taken in and locked up, and I was did, ma'am," said the man, shaking his tramp, upon the pavement, and knew it hope is gone." head. "He looked straight at me as he was the new policeman, and that he was bor as thyself.' When I remember these stormy night and but few customers came poor man myself and I can feel for other A Surgical Lecture over the words, I think that you may be too hard in, and those were easily served, and poor men.' with a poor sinful fellow-being, and not somehow, between reading and thinking, time passed on, until the clock struck all my life, so wondering, so thankful and "That rich gentleman who had his eleven, and I had not yet taken in my so awe-stricken. All he said was God the wretch of a thief may have a crust of I had already put my hand upon the first bread and a glass of burning gin, if he piece of the shutter,) my door opened and can sell or pawn what he stole for enough an old woman came in. She was a sottish, to get them. Somehow, if I could, I miserable creature, known about the place as Irish Kate, and with her red nose and took a store in a good street at the other bleared eyes and bloated limbs, was as end of the town, and one way and another ture by Professor Paneoast, son to the "Still, I don't blame those young fel- ugly a figure as any one ever cast eyes on. lows; I'd have been as furious in the 'Another dram, I suppose,' I said to mychase as any of 'em years ago; but I learnt | self, going behind the bar at once, for I a lesson once that I never have forgotten, wanted to get rid of her as soon as possible. and hope I never may. I was a young But she, to my great surprise, came close the hams, I was awakened long after mid- hours, and was to the medical students man, and a poor one then, and had a hard up to me, and put her great, red paw upon | night by a cry of fire. I started up to see | and physicians assembled an occasion of

"I've made a diskivery, mister," she and saving, and keeping a sharp lookout said. "You've not been keeping as bright for every bargain, that I managed it at all. a lookout as ye should; there's been a "We lived in a shabby street, and had | thafe at work widout this blessed night." "What thief?" I asked.

"More than I can tell ye," she answertwo ounces of black tea was quite an order, ed. "But I think it's a policeman, no less, burning building alive and safe. I was ination showed that, aside from its ignobles, I never thought of such folly. Dia- flew at once to the man I had seen staring and believed there was no one missing .- from congestion, from asphyxia, or from

"It's too dark to see his face," she said : "but I caught the shine of a star on the upon her face, screamed: coat he has on, and whoiver it was took a "Now and then, when a foreign ship ham from your pegs and hid it in the behind." came to port with a load of ruined pine- ash-box beyand the corner. Ye'll find it apples, or decayed oranges, I bought a lot | there, if ye look; and sure ye'll not refuse nothing, sold them easily enough. Altho', "I gave the old creature what she I own my wife used to say the miserable | wanted, hurried her out of the shop and babies, who rolled about the gutters, died | put up the shutters, growing angrier ev-

foreign fruit I sold in the old shop, and "If it is the policeman, I'll make him regions, and not an everyday affair I can self in a doorway and waited. The watch only bade me have patience. tell you. They went off slowly, as I were relieved at twelve o'clock; I knew thought they would. Now and then some that, and knew also that this would be the one would come in for a pound, and once | time when my policeman would come to tered the cry at first, and the shrill treble I sold half of the smallest one to a woman take the ham from out of its hiding place. who wanted it for her Sunday dinner .- And sure enough, when the time came I She was to pay me on Monday morning, heard him challenge the man who was to of hounds-a sound you might have known her husband killed her with a rum bottle, towards the corner. I let him get the room?" at any distance, however ignorant you and they took her body past my shop with ham well under his arm before I stirred, its poor head all beaten out of shape and but then I pounced upon him like a tiger.

"And so the hams hung there through policeman you are, indeed, but you shall tell vou.'

the gutter, all joined together in the hot that I noticed a new policeman on our den dropped the ham and fell down in a pursuit, and followed the miserable object | beat-a young, handsome looking fellow, | helpless sort of a heap upon the ground.

a speed which only fear could lend to one be powerfully built and made for a rather Oh my God! my wife-my poor little him. so worn and wretched-a speed which stout man, that I could not help watching wife!" and he burst out crying, like a

"The sight softened me, but I was angry

"You should have thought of that bethat the thief had baffled them, and some ing all the while straight at those hams, fore you became a thief," I said. "If the arms. 'The burnt body of my child, per- will be preserved forever in the anatomicamongst the crowd rushed back to see if which dangled from the frame of the guardian of a man's property is not to be haps,' I thought, but as he came closer I al museum of Jefferson College.-Philad. their prey had doubled on his track; and awning. 'I hope he means to buy one,' trusted, what is to become of him? And saw that it was my own laughing, living | News. others, sulky and indignant with the re- I said to my wife, as we sat together over | you look like a gentleman - you do not seem | darling, with her blue eyes open and her sult of their useless chase, came back mut- the tea table; 'and I shouldn't wonder if like a scoundrel; how have you stooped little arms about his neck.

yet. One policeman, a well fed fellow | "But the evening passed, and though I the lamp-light fell on his face. It was cared for. with a crimson face, made quite a hero of saw him every now and then on the other white as any corpse's, and his eyes glitterdown. There was a good deal of sympa- not come in or speak to me on the sub- said, "it was the only thing which could blessing; but let me know your name at wickedness; told him how men would thy for the gentleman who had lost his ject. And so I made up my mind that have driven me to an act like that; my least." pocket handkerchief, but none that I he would send for it in the morning, and wife and child are starving, I tell you, and policeman's wife coming after the ham.' My God! can't you believe me-won't eyes, a face I knew, and something glit- to pieces the types he had so laboriously "Well, I may be wrong, but I somehow I was mistaken, however; and after the you believe?" panted the man. "I have tering on his breast. And the scene at put together. His work of destruction street lamps were lighted that night I only been appointed three days; I have the corner of the dirty little street, on a was only stayed by another voice sweet I turned in surprise, and confronted began to see the man pacing up and down, not received a cent of salary yet. I have wet December night, came back to me, and musical, that fell on his ear, telling our grocer, on whose steps I had sought up and down, up and down, with his eyes been ill a long while, and had neither and I saw my policeman once more. shelter from the crowd, which, at such a still fixed as they had been the night pre- money nor credit. Last night we went to "It is you," I said, "and you have saved that all good might be made the cause of moment, could not be expected to think vious upon the hams. Once he caught bed supperless; to-day there has not been my child from such an awful death." me peeping at him, and then he turned a crust in the house, and those hams Our grocer was a portly man, with a so red and looked at me with such a wolf- tempted me so. You can never know how from ?" he said, with tears in his eyes .-- those voices that came to Guttenburg ; shining bald head, fringed with a riog of ish glitter in his eyes, that I grew angry awfully they tempted me, and I meant to "Starvation, ruin, utter degradation. I the one calling us to work, while it is Catholic priest, and wearing at the moment unsaleable articles isn't a crime in this | He covered his face with his hands, and ones paupers this night, but for you I better than we found it; and the other a Holland apron and a short blue jacket. | country, for if it was I should expect to I could see great tears dripping through have not paid the debt; I never can; but tempting us to give over and take our ease "Yes'm," he went on, "I really hope be arrested.' So I gave him back his his fingers, and before I knew it my own when I heard that it was your child that |- to leave the plough in mid-furrow, and the miserable, starved-looking creature look, turned on my beel, and walked back | cheeks were moist, and so we stood silent, lay at the top of that burning building, I to rest on our oars when we should be into the shop. I did not see him again with the ham lying between us on the prayed that I might save it, and I know pulling against the stream.

"Policemen's families do not often me, "Look again."

"I'm afraid it's only too certain that he snug in bed, I heard a tramp, tramp, "Do what you like with me. The last him to the neighborhood on that night of just from Sioux City states that between "But I put my hand on his arm and passed, and he had hungry, desperate looking at the hooks where the hams hung, said, God forbid that I should take that but he was prosperous and stood by me bound for the West, some to Dacotah, last hope from you, that I, of all men, like a brother; nursed me through my some to the Sioux City region, and others "On the third evening he was there should be the one to ruin you. If your illness, and loaned me money for a new for the fertile valleys of the Desmoines again; that, you may say, was no wonder, story is true-and I believe it is-I pity start in life. So that in a little while and other streams this side of the Big

"God forbid that I should help to break | should keep on staring at those hams with | ed way, as though he scarcely understood

"I shall never forget that man's face in bless you,' but there was a whole sermon "Just as I was about to do so, (in fact, in these words, and I slept better for them.

cent, and from that day until I left the contain, all of whom were present by inneighborhood dealt with me regularly .-But times grew so much better that I of the medical profession. saw no more of my policeman for three veteran professor, now unfortunately sufgood years.

the flames through the floor, and to know | special interest. the store down stairs was all ablaze. The stairs were on fire also, and when, as I extremities, was placed upon a revolving smoke rushed in and almost smothered | The professors occupied the nearest seats. wife and helpless little ones out of that room was filled. The result of the exam-"A policeman !" I cried, and my thoughts | see, that I hadn't all my wits about me, | duced but one single pang. He died not ing her hands, and with an awful look

"Our little Lucy, our little Lucy is left

"She had slept with our hired girl since her baby brother was born, and the woone. There she was at the top of that There was no laceration of the strictures burning building, out of the reach of any or the tissues discernible when the neck human help; it seemed to me, as I looked | was opened. The jugular was distended sheet of flame, with blue gleams here and one hundred and seventy-six pounds, and I'm afraid that she was right. Well, as pay dearly for it," as I slunk along the there, as though devilish heads were the surgeons expected that a fall of his I told you, I struggled along as best I sidewalk to the corner, keeping in the peeping out and grinning at us. Still, body three feet and a half would have might, and after a while things began to shadow all the way, and when I stood be- hopcless as it was, I should have gone sundered every part in this locality.improve, and I began to have visions of a side the box and saw by the light of the back into the burning house and saved Not even the delicate veins were injured. clean store in a good street, when I laid lamp, close by, that the ham was there, my baby or died with her if I had been wrapped in something which looked like able to stand. No one else would ven- showed muscular development to a high "So one day when I had been to mar- a handkerchief, I bit my lips and clench- ture. It would be a foolish sacrifice of degree, and the presence of a strata of fat. railed areas were fringed with soft green ket I brought home half a dozen hams ed my hands with rage. Had it been a life, they said, for no doubt the child was Death was not caused by want of air, for moss. A very quiet place at most times, and hung them up about the door, more common thief I should not so much have already smothered by the smoke, and the lungs were fully distended and perfor show than anything else, for hams minded; but a policeman! it was more though I raved and pleaded and made feetly healthy in appearance, and the right were a grand holiday dinner in those than I could stand. So I crouched my- wild promises, they shook their heads and side of the heart, usually congested under

> "Patience!" I thought that I was going in its natural condition. The digestion mad as the face of my little girl-my was perfect. Though the prisoner had sweet, pretty pet-rose up before me .- breakfasted upon bread and butter with But just then a tall man dashed through | two boiled eggs, the whole were found to the crowd and came towards me.

"Quick !" he shouted, "which room is absolutely empty. full, deep chorus, like the cry of a pack but she never did, for on Sunday night take his place, and come marching down the child in-speak quickly-which

"The back one on the upper floor," I groaned, and he dashed away from me, "I've got you!" I cried. "A pretty parting the throng with his strong arms, and in another moment I saw him mountboys with bundles, bakers with baskets on the summer and through the fall, and suffer for it; you shall suffer for it; you shall suffer for it, I can ing the ladder. I heard them calling him Probst died from the nervous shock re-"He struggled with me for a moment speaking of him as though he were dead pression of the nerves and arteries. The ragged urchins, whose school-house was began to grow long and dark and cold, like a wild thing, and then all of a sud- already. But he never heeded them, and demonstrator took occasion here to say as I saw him hidden by the black smoke that he considered the size of the brain as which poured from the window, I covered | having no bearing upon the question of with bare, begrimed feet and hatless with very bright eyes, but with such thin | "I'm a ruined man!" he groaned, "a my face and prayed that the angels who intelligence or its opposite. head, that flitted along before them with | cheeks and hands, although he seemed to | ruined man! there's no hope for me now. | walked in the fiery furnace might go with er than an earthly thing must have been | these examinations in order to advance the there, for in a few minutes-they seemed | cause of science. years to me then-we saw him coming down the ladder with something in his interment of this murderer. His skeleton

He was standing beside me now, and my treasure was safe and that was all I in the monastery of St. Acorsgot, he tells

I said, as I grasped his hand. "I'm power his invention would put in the fellow, and would trap him before sun- bright eyes straight at the hams, he did "I'll tell you what made me do it," he a ruined man, and I can only give you my hands of bad men to propagate their should have been a felon, and my dear | called to-day-to try to leave this world God heard me."

"And then he told me what had bro't all others in the year.

things grew bright again, and here I am, Muddy. The rush westward this spring and no other; but it was curious that he "He looked at me in a sort of bewilder- you see, as comfortable as most people." "And the policeman?" I asked,

"His hair is as white as my own now," said the old man, "and my daughter,

Patent bone crushing machines .-

Dead Body of Probst.

NUMBER 36.

An autopsy of the body of the executed murderer Probst was made in the clinicroom of Jefferson Medical College on Saturday afternoon, in the presence of as "On Christmas night he paid me every many persons as the department would vitation, and most of whom were members

The occasion was the subject of a lecfering badly from inflammation of the "One night, just such a cold night as eyes, and not able to be present. The that on which I first saw him staring on lecture and the operation lasted for two

The body, dark and discolored at the opened the entry door, the hot air and table in the center of the amphitheatre. me, I gave up all hope of getting my poor and up to the highest bench every inch of so faint and ill from the accident, you miny, the manner of Probst's death pro-My blood ran cold when my wife, clasp- the fracture of the vertebræ of the neck; he died from an immense shock, that shattered in an instant the entire nervous system. There was a livid mark around the neck made by the rope. Where the knot had been there was no discoloration whatever, and this showed the constriction man in her fright had forgotten her little | was only around the portion of the neck. up at the walls, a great red and yellow with blood. The weight of the man was

The cavity of the chest being examined these circumstances of death, was found have been abscribed, and the stomach was

The brain was healthy, but of less than average size. Its weight was thirty-six ounces; that of Green, the Malden murderer, was four ounces less. Looking over the whole ground, the young professor pointed out the inevitable conclusion that to come back, bidding him beware, and sulting from the fall, and from the com-

In the course of the lecture Dr. Pancoast narrated some interesting anecdotes. "Perhaps they did. Something strong- He said that it was necessary to have

The country will be at no cost for the

THE Two Voices .- When Guttenburg. "The roof fell in the next moment, but | the first printer, was working in his cell us that he heard two voices address him. "What shall I say or do to thank you," The one bade him desist; told him the profane the art he had created, and how "Have you forgotten me? don't you re- | prosperity would have cause to curse the member me?" he said, as he bent over man who gave it to the world. So impressed was Guttenburg with what he "I did; and I saw a pair of bright gray | heard, that he took a hammer, and broke him to go on, and to rejoice in his work; evil, but that God would bless the right "And what did you save me and mine in the end. So to all of us still come IMMENSE IMMIGRATION. - A gentleman that place and Iowa balls, he met over "I had lost all, for I was not insured, five hundred teams with immigrants, all has never been exceeded even in the flushest of the flush times.

nen John C. Breckenridge has gone the little one he saved that night, is mar- into the pork business in Cauada. Judging from the past, it is just the thing for him. When he left Jeff. Davis in the lurch, he showed that he knew how to "aave his bacon."