

POLITICAL PLEASANTIES.—The Philadelphia Sunday Press has the following "trifles light as air":

D. S. Eyster has been appointed associate justice of the Supreme Court of Colorado.

The firm Roman to great Egypt sends This treasure of an oyster.

*Firm of Johnson & Co.

"Have you been naturalized?" asked one of our up-country Demo-copper-crats of a returned 69th Regiment P. V. boy.

"Be aisy, now," replied the "bowl'd soldier," "I'm everything but ac-Clymer-ized!"

A political Cabinet weather-cock is likely to fall in the dirt and be Sew-ered!

Motto for the Boys in Blue: "Those who are not for U. S. are against us."

Has any one seen Andrew Johnson's new talking parrot? What parrot? His pretty pol-ye-see!

Andrew Johnson. What Ann? An-srchy.

How very different is Shakspeare's Merry Andrew, from the American Andrew Johnson. In "Twelfth Night," Act 3, Scene 2, Fabian says:

"This was looked for at your hand, and this was baulked; the double guilt of this opportunity you let time wash off, and you are now sailed into the North of my lady's opinion, where you will hang like an icicle on a Dutchman's beard, unless you do redeem it by some laudable attempt, either of valor or policy."

"Sir Andrew. And 't' be any way it must be with valor; for policy (?) I hat; I had as lief be a Brownist (John Brownist) as a politician."

In the Merchant of Venice, Act 1, Scene 1, thus ends the career of Andrew: "Salerno. What harm a wind too great might do."

I should not see the sandy hour glass run; But I think of sh'adows and of flatts; And see my wealthy Andrew dock'd in sand, Vailing the high top lower than the ribs, To kiss a burial."

How to JUDGE WEATHER BY THE SKY.—The following mode of judging of the weather by the sky is from Thompson's Coast Pilot: The color of the sky, at particular times, affords wonderfully good guidance. Not only sunset presages fair weather, but there are other tints which speak with equal clearness and accuracy. A bright yellow sky in the evening indicates wind; a pale yellow, wet; a natural gray color constitutes a favorable sign in the evening and an unfavorable one in the morning. They are full of meaning in themselves. If their forms are soft, under-lined and featury, the weather will be fine; if the edges are hard, sharp, and definite, it will be foul. Generally speaking, any deep, un-un-lues betoken wind and rain, while the more quiet and delicate tints bespeak fine weather. Simple as these maxims are, the British Board of Trade has thought fit to publish them for the use of sea-faring men.

A GOOD MEDICAL JOKE.—A good story is in circulation of a certain doctor, who sometimes drank a good deal at dinner. He was summoned one evening to see a lady patient when he was more than "half seas over," and conscious that he was so. On feeling her pulse, and finding himself unable to count its beats, he muttered, "Druck, by jove." Next morning, recollecting the circumstance he was greatly vexed, and just as he was thinking what explanation he should offer to the lady, a letter was put in his hand. "She too well knew," said the letter, "that he had discovered the unfortunate condition in which she was when he had visited her, and she entreated him to keep the matter a secret, in consideration of the enclosed"—a $100 bill.

DELICIOUSLY MODEST.—"Martha, does she love me?" asked a quaker youth of one at whose shrine his heart's fondest feelings had been offered.

"Why, Seth," answered she, "we are commanded to love one another, are we not?"

"Ah, Martha! but does thou regard me with that feeling the world calls love?"

"I hardly know what to tell thee, Seth. I have tried to bestow myself on all; but I have sometimes thought, perhaps, that there was something more than thy share."

OBLIGING.—The following is said to be a copy of a letter sent by a member of the legal profession to a person who was indebted to one of his clients: "Sir, I am desirous to apply to you for $75 due to my client, Mr. Jones. If you send me the money by this day a week, you will oblige me; if not, I will oblige you."
