

THE SITUATION.—Under the influence of a wind which came from the north, the snow melted rapidly during a period of several hours on Thursday and Friday of last week. The snow hereabout, it will be remembered, was four feet deep on the level and ten feet deep in the drift. During the continuance of the soft weather, out-door locomotion of any sort was almost impossible. If you were in your favor that at every other step you sank through to the ground, and the liquid snow closing in around you and running over the tops of your heads; while if you rode or drove, no one could be found so rash as to insure you a safe deliverance from the accident of a tattered horse, or a villainously bad sleigh. Indeed, so villainously bad were the roads that on Friday the "Snow-buggy" failed to get through to Cresheim, and our mails at either end had to wait over one whole day. And this was the "January thaw."

Our Branch Railroad is still closed. A "shovelers corps" warmed into activity the belief that the Southern breezes meant the end of the storm season, commenced shoveling operations at either end of the route on Friday. On Saturday, a shower of rain and sleet brought things to a stand-still; but Monday again saw shovellers-up of communication at work. They were making excellent headway—alas! on Tuesday, a regular old nor'easter came to see us, accompanied by winds of snow, and what had been opened up of the road was again speedily packed. Alas! But the "shovelers," apparently, possess a heart for any fate, and are not discouraged by trifles. This morning (Wednesday) they have again taken down the shovel and the hoe, and in a couple of days (D. V. and no more drifting) will be able to see their way through. Speed the right!

P. S.—It is rumored that A. J. has it in contemplation to remove the present Cashier Clerk from office shortly. But doubt it.

STRAYS.—Comparatively few persons are aware of the steps to be taken, according to law, in the case of strays. We copy the following information on the subject from an exchange: Persons having stray cattle or horses in their possession throw themselves liable in the sum of five dollars if they fail to report the animal to the town clerk within four days, and it is his duty to make record of the same, subject to same penalty in default thereof. If the owner presents himself to the clerk within thirty days, he is entitled to receive his property on payment of charges. If, after the expiration of this time, no owner is found, the person possessing the stray is required to advertise it; and if within ninety days thereafter, no owner appears, the person taking up the same shall apply to a Justice of the Peace in the township, who is required to issue his warrant to a constable, who, after giving ten days' notice, is required to sell the same—the money for which is to be paid into the hands of the Justice of the Peace, who is to pay all reasonable charges for the cost of keeping, advertising, selling, &c., and to balance, if there be any, to be paid to the county treasury.

MEMORANDA.—The saw-mill of Mr. Samuel Shultze, near Strongstown, Indiana county, was destroyed by fire a few days ago. The County Auditors succeeded in completing their annual settlement last week. Mr. Wm. Leighty, an industrious mechanic of our town, was so unfortunate to cut his knee so severely a few weeks since that he has been confined to his bed ever since. It is feared he will never recover the use of the limb.

BORO. ELECTION.—Our boro. election will be held on Friday, 15th inst. The following officers are to be elected by the voters at large—one Burgess, one School Director. In addition, each of the two wards will elect five Councilmen, one Assessor, one Assessor, two Assistant Assessors, one Judge of Election, two Inspectors of Election.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Robert E. Hughes, lumber dealer, Ebensburg. J. J. Waters, Esq., Justice of the Peace, Ebensburg. License notice, by Geo. C. K. Zahm, Justice of the Courts. H. Dyars & Co., Hemlock, dissolution of partnership. Assignee's Notice, by Ed. D. Evans.

COUNTY MAP.—The map of Cambria county is now completed and ready for delivery. It will be delivered to subscribers as soon as the roads are passable. It is in town.

CAMBRIA COUNTY AND THE STATE TREASURY.—The following statistics are compiled from the Auditor General's Report of last year.

Her population in 1820 and succeeding decades is shown by the following figures: 1820. 1830. 1840. 1850. 1860. 171. 270. 353. 600. 1002.

THE AMENDE.—We failed to announce last week, by reason that we did not then know it to be a fact, that R. L. Johnston, Esq., is editor of the Ebensburg Freeman. Mr. J. is a newspaper man of considerable experience. With him as editor and with Mr. M'Pike as publisher, the Freeman cannot fail to be a great improvement on its illustrious predecessor, the Dem. & Sent.

ORPHANS' SCHOOL.—One of our subscribers, Mr. A. H. Brown, sends us an interesting account of a visit he lately made to the Orphans' School at Andersonburg, Perry county. We are sorry we have not room to publish the narrative entire, but can say that Mr. B. found the school in a flourishing condition and its management all that could be desired.

A GOOD BOOK.—Mr. Scott W. Jones, of Ebensburg, has been appointed agent for Northern Cambria for "Greeley's Conflict." He will solicit subscriptions soon. We hope he may receive the countenance the book deserves.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

HEMLOCK, Feb. 4, 1867. To the Editor of The Alleghenian: In your paper of last week, you copy an item from the Hollidaysburg Leader, saying that a man named Wilt, residing a few miles from this place, and his wife and three children, were snowed up by the late storm, and froze to death in their own house. A strict regard for the "truth of history" impels me to make the following corrections: First, Mr. Wilt was not frozen to death; second, Mrs. Wilt was not frozen to death; third, the three children were not frozen to death; fourth, neither of the parties was so much, even, as frostbitten; fifth, the family was not snowed up to an alarming extent. In a word, the story from beginning to end is a strictly sensation one.

SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL JACKSONIAN BALL.—A DELICIOUS ACCOUNT OF IT BY ONE WHO WAS THERE—WHAT WAS DONE, AND WHAT WASN'T—A SPIRITED AND LIVELY TALE. EBENSBURG, Feb. 5, 1867. To the Editor of The Alleghenian: On Thursday night last, the annual Jacksonian Ball came off, and I subjoin a brief account of the manner in which the occasion was improved by the many fortunate enough to have received an invite. Thursday evening, 6 o'clock.—Left Ebensburg for Raphael's Hotel, Jackson township, in high anticipations and a Cole sled, having for companions a number of genial Ebensburgers and a Spiritual adviser. At nine o'clock, the entire party (saving the adviser) arrived safely at the historic Raphael's. Here we had an opportunity of examining more carefully the number and condition of the guests and their equipage. (Mem.—Equipage in good order.) Recapitulation.—Twenty-five registered guests; one keg lager, untapped; twenty-six supplementary advisers, spiritual; two empty camphor bottles; one man hors du combat—a harrowing spectacle; two wounded men, attended by Hospital Steward; courteous, devoid of supplies. (No slippers, save two at the end of the ball.) But, "on with the dance, let joy be unconfined." Let the keg be ditto. Then "music with its voluptuous swell," accompanied by "tripping on the light fantastic toe," made evident the fact that the revelry had commenced, and that reveling revelers were, with spirits plenty for revelry and fun. "Charge! Chester! charge!" was never uttered with more emphasis by the renowned warrior of old, than was the "Forward four!" and "Corners all!" of our Terpsichorean commander.

Thus winged the hours away till supper was announced. A groning board of luxuries was there, and our kind host outdid himself in the magnificence of the festive entertainment. Sledge-loads of dishes, courses unnumbered, and pastry of every conceivable character, with washings down of tea, coffee, lager, and Porter. (Mem.—The tea was not all Bohea.) Isaac's patriarchal days ne'er witnessed a more ample supply, and if aught were wanting, we had our Isaac to secure it, if to be had. Supper over and toasts drank—(all the guests were toasted)—the dancing was resumed. No kettle better supplied than the one from whose ample fountain flowed our tuneful supplies. No side-show affair was ours, yet the canopied bed might a tale unfold of how the mellifluous notes were kept step by two of a nature's well-endued minds tho' of less favored physiques. Thus passed away the hours, and thus too passed away the gradually decreasing spirits, until a stop in the lager keg suggested a lull in the dance, and all the satiated prepared for their return trip. A patriarchal train, only remained behind to close up any vacancies that might happen, designing to overtake the party before its arrival at Ebensburg; but Burns has written that "the best laid schemes of mice and men gang aft agley," and this the history of their failure to make connections. Six o'clock found all the teams in Ebensburg, and the seventeenth annual Jacksonian ball was over, only to live in memory. Truly, NORA.

WORLD MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO.—We take pleasure in recommending to its favorable consideration of our readers, the World Mutual Life Insurance Company, whose office is at 117 Broadway, New York, and whose general agent for Pennsylvania is J. F. Fraueuff, Esq., Hollidaysburg, Pa. One special and valuable feature in connection with this company is that they have a table of extremely low rates for those who do not care to participate in the profits of the company. The annual payment on a policy for $1,000 by a person 25 years old is but $13.99, by this table. For $140 a person 25 years old may leave his family the comfortable sum of $20,000, should he die within the first year. This would form an actual competence for a small family, and the premium paid could be saved by any steady man on fair wages. The full particulars in reference to this staunch company may be obtained by a letter to the general agent above named.

NEW VERSION.—Some persons are born rich; some acquire riches, while others have riches thrust upon them. If you wish to belong to the last mentioned class, go and buy a bill of the cheap goods which are kept in endless variety at V. S. Barker's cheap cash store, Ebensburg, Pa. Everybody goes there.

WHY NOT?—Notwithstanding the fact that our branch railroad is snowed up, A. A. Barker still receives the latest styles of goods of every description, which will be sold at reduced prices. If you are in need of anything in the dry goods, grocery or notion line, give him a call.

WORTH REMEMBERING.—When a person intends making a purchase, he generally inquires where he can get the best articles for the fewest "stamps," and instinctively directs his steps to J. M. Thompson's cheap cash store, Ebensburg. He keeps a full assortment of everything.

UNDISPUTED.—It is currently reported and generally believed by all well read and intelligent persons, that American watches and Morton's gold pens are the best watches and the best pens manufactured. For sale by C. T. Roberts, Ebensburg.

AT COST.—If you wish to come out in a suit of the latest style of ready made clothing, go to E. J. Mills' store, P. O. building. He also keeps a full assortment of hats, caps, underclothes, boots, shoes, &c. Call soon and receive bargains.
