

A MAN OF VERY REGULAR HABITS.—Some twenty-five years ago, or perhaps a little more, an aged and highly respected physician departed this life in one of the counties of Massachusetts. In fact, this worthy gentleman had reached the extraordinary age of one hundred and five years.

No little interest, as may be imagined, had hovered around his slowly declining days, and we all naturally looked up to him as our father and guide. The period of his death was one of great excitement in regard to the temperance question, and it was felt that some important lessons for the benefit of the cause could be derived from an investigation of the ordinary habits of a gentleman of education and scientific attainments, whose life had been protracted to such an advanced period, doubtless owing to the rigorous adherence to the laws of health, and promulgated and enforced by the total abstinence advocates of the day.

Accordingly after the lapse of a due season, a committee was deputed, on the part of the temperance societies, to wait upon some near relative of the old gentleman deceased, in order to learn positively what had been the course of his life, and by what means he had so long preserved an existence in the possession of mental and physical vigor, until at length he yielded to absolute decay of bodily powers, without the intervention of any acute disease.

The deputation had proceeded to the ancient physician's late place of residence, and waited upon a gentleman who was his grandson, obtaining from him all the particulars concerning his aged relative. After due sentiments of condolence had been expressed, the suitable inquiries were propounded.

"Doubtless," said the chief interlocutor, "your grandfather, enjoying such a remarkable span of existence, was a strict observer of the rules of temperance; we need not express our confidence that he indulged to no excess in the use of any hurtful kind of drink."

"Oh no, sir," said the person enquired of, "you may be sure of that. My grandfather was a person of very regular habits."

"But, we would like to know, if you please," pursued the questioner, "something in particular regarding his mode of life; how, for instance, he began, and passed, and ended the day?"

"Well, sir, when he first rose in the morning, he took about half a glass of pure Jamaica rum; my grandfather was a person of very regular habits; this was his uniform custom."

"This, I suppose," said the inquirer, "was to give a sort of flip to his system after the lethargy of lengthened repose, made requisite as an exceptional case, by his very advanced period of life. Please tell us what his practice was during the rest of the day?"

JOHNSON'S RHEUMATIC COMPOUND!

No medicine for the cure of Rheumatism has ever attained to such a high degree of favor and universality as

JOHNSON'S RHEUMATIC COMPOUND.

Although but one year before the public, this medicine has justly gained an unbounded popularity. When the originator first introduced it, he was convinced of its efficacy, but he little supposed it was destined to prove such an inestimable blessing to the afflicted. But "true merit" cannot be suppressed. The attestation of hundreds who have been cured by its use, must prove the truth of the assertion.

"THAT IT IS A RADICAL CURATIVE FOR INFLAMMATORY AND ACUTE RHEUMATISM, GOUT, NEURALGIA, AND KINDRED DISEASES.

We recommend it with confidence as THE GREAT INTERNAL REMEDY, For the Speedy and Positive Cure of the above Complaints.

Messrs. R. E. Sellers & Co.: This is to certify that for the last sixteen years I have been severely afflicted with rheumatism, often confined to my house, and even unable to walk. Being in the Postoffice, about two months ago, Mr. Clark observed my crippled condition, and urged me to try a bottle of "Johnson's Rheumatic Compound." I followed his advice and now, by the blessing of God, and the use of half a bottle of your "Compound," I am free from all symptoms of rheumatism, and can walk without the aid of my staff, as well as ever.

LET PHYSICIANS SPEAK!
SELLERS' VERMIFUGE THE BEST IN USE—HERE IS THE PROOF.

Licking Station, Ky., Dec. 14, 1845. Mr. R. E. SELLERS:—Your Vermifuge possesses more virtue than any I ever used. I will state a case where I gave one vial. My brother's child was pining and wasting to a mere skeleton. In thirty-six hours after I gave the Vermifuge, the enormous quantity of upwards of one hundred worms were passed. The child that was given up for lost, is now as well as any in the neighborhood.

A CARD.—WITNESS THE BRIDGE, Lancaster Tp., July 30, 1866. Messrs. EVANS AND WATSON: Gentlemen—The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam Barr, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1866, has been subjected to a very severe trial, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This safe, containing all my property, together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors, was destroyed on the night of the 27th inst., 1866, and passed through the fire unscathed. The safe was on the second and fell to the basement of the Mill, and subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the rails, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of confined within the brick walls. After the fire was opened, and the boiler papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored. This fact was, however, to my mind, a better recommendation of your safe than could be expressed in any other words.

Yours Respectfully, SAMUEL WAX
