REPUBLICAN CONVENTION !-The "Republican State Convention" will meet at the "Herdic House," in Williamsport, on Wednesday; 26th of June next, at 10 o'clock, a. m., to nominate a candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, and to initiate As heretofore, the Convention will be composed of Representative and Senatorial Delegates, chosen in the usual way, and equal in number to the whole of the Senators and Representatives in the General Assembly. By order of the State Central Committee. F. JORDAN, Chairman.

Farming in Cambria County

to seek in the West for acres more easily tilled. To those who have departed, we remain, especially such as contemplate removal, we desire to speak of some very great advantages offered by Cambria county to tillers of the soil. Of course, there are persons who think that our county will be "done for" as soon as the timber is stripped from its surface. They regard the timber and such ores as have been successfully dug from our hills as our only sources of wealth. It is quite true that we are to some extent made our people as glad to purchase lumber as they are now ready to sell it. But Cambria county will only have begun to to destroy her timber and have turned their attention to the cultivation of the soil. We have an abundance of area clear of all growth to occupy every hand that only a fair, but a good, profit. The climate is severe, and the winters are long, but the one is not more severe nor the others longer than in nearly the entire in operation, with a proportionable reduc-State of New York and in the whole of New England, where agriculture is the successful and profitable pursuit of many people. The quantity of snow that falls each winter in this section is really an advantage, for it affords protection to the fall grain, which in other places is exposed to alternate thawing and freezing. In one respect, that of a good market, the people of this county have an immense advantage tariff. For every dollar added to the price over the majority of the agricultural counties of the State. The farmer that goes to the West to purchase cheap lands may count to a certainty from the start that he will be distant from a good market, and unable to sell at remunerative prices many products of his labor. Wheat, rye, barley he can always sell. But when he parts with his corn at ten cents a bushel, or is using it for fuel because of the pitiful price he is offered for it, he does what no farmer in this county need ever do. There is not perhaps one farmer out of ten in Cambria county that is so distant from a good market as to preclude the sale, at good prices, of every bushel of wheat, oats, rye, barley, corn, buckwheat, potatoes and turnips; of every dozen eggs, every chicken, every cabbage, parsnip, carrot, or whatever else that is good for food. To say truthfully that there is a good market for all the products of a farm, is to surmount at a leap a dozen minor difficulties. The market of which we speak is principally at Johnstown and vicioity. Not far from 2,000 persons are there employed at mechanical pursuits. Those 2,000 persons represent a population of 10,000 to 12,000, and of the whole number, we venture the assertion that from 6,000 to 8,000 never but a rod of ground under cultivation. The dealers who supply these people with the products of the farm and garden secure but a small part of the aggregate amount from surrounding localities. Says the Hon. Daniel J. Morrell, Manager of the Cambria Iron Company: "So far as the Cambria Iron Company is concerned, the local supply of agricultural products, though large, is scarcely perceptible. It does not nearly sustain the other industries created by the works, but having no dependence on them other than that the works are as necessary to their existence as the shining of the sun." Were it but known that our farmers had products to sell, they would daily find purchasers at their very doors, for we know that the neighboring counties are traversed constantly in the proper seasons by store keepers and dealers for all farm products, from an egg to a cabbage.

THE reconstruction injunction cases, aptly denominated the brevet rebellion, are coming to a focus. On Saturday, Robert J. Walker spoke four hours in favor of granting the Mississippi injunction. On Monday, Attorney General Stanberry replied, concluding the argument. The Court has not yet promulgated its depision.

The Eight Hour Law.

Governor Geary wisely holds in his possession the law recently passed by the Legislature, enacting that hereafter eight hours shall, in all contracts for labor, constitute a day's work. We greatly desire that the number of hours designated proper measures for the ensuing State canvass. by the law as comprising a day's labor shal! be reduced to one-third of the daily twenty four; but that such a result can be achieved by a hasty act of the Legislature, without inflicting an injury upon the country, we are not so certain. Those who make the demand for the change, throw an almost insurmountable obstacle in their own way by exorbitantly asking that there be no corresponding reduction Many young farmers, and old ones, also, in the price of a day's labor. The greatest have within the last year left this county defeat which could possibly happen the mechanics, artisans and laborers of the cultivated than those they have hitherto country would be the granting of their desire to receive the same amount per wish abundant success, and to those who diem for working eight, as they have bitherto received for working ten, hours. Eight hours are just four-fifths of ten hours ; the labor done in the eight hours, is just four-fifths of that done in ten hours ; to pay the same wages for eight hours' labor, as for ten, is to increase the cost of all products of labor just one-fifth, or twenty per cent. The yard of woolen now made for one dollar would cost under the proposed change, one dollar and twenty cents. Even now, the cost of production poorer by the destruction of our forests, is so high that our markets are filled with for, at the present rate of consumption, many classes of foreign goods. Increase five years of the future will see many of the cost of home manufactures twenty per cent., and there is scarcely a work-shop in Pennsylvania that would not be closed within a twelve-month. But another view prosper when her sons shall have ceased of the case: suppose Pennsylvania has an eight hour law rigidly enforced, and no corresponding reduction in wages; but New York and New Jersey have none .-It is plain, then, that all things else being can hold a plow or wield a scythe, at not equal, New York and New Jersey can manufacture at four-fifths the cost in

But supposing again that such a law is tion of the price of labor. The obvious effect will be the same as the withdrawal from the country of one-fifth of its mechanics, artisans and laborers. Laborers being thus made scarce, the competition for them will become keener, and their remuneration increased. This last effect develops the close relation sustained by the present labor movement to a protective of labor in this country makes us the more unable to compete with foreign workshops, unless the difference is equalized by a tariff. Yet Illinois opposes a tariff, and decrees eight hours as a day's work. Ultimately, the labor movement may triumph, and its impatient advocates can meanwhile improve their time by studying patience, and the widely extended effects of the movement in which they are

JUDGE UNDERWOOD on May 1st issued a writ, directing the United States Marshal of Virginia to bring before the United States District Court, at Richmond, on Monday, 13th inst., the body of Jefferson Davis. As no similar action has hitherto taken place, it seems probable that the Government will not longer detain Davis without an effort to try him; and he will doubtless either be tried or admitted to bail, at the present session. If, however, he should not be tried by this Court, his case will, it is understood, be taken up by the United States Circuit Court for the District of North Carolina, Maryland and Virginia, which will meet at Richmond on the first Monday in June. It is rumored that a change is to be made in the allotment of Judges for this District before the trial takes place. A few days will determine if Davis' case is to be disposed of by these Courts. If it is not thus disposed of, it is thought that the prisoner will be released from custody by the Executive, and be thrust again, a dangerous criminal, upon society.

THE propriety is suggested to the Southern Conservative press of heading their calls for mass meetings, "irrespective of color," with two or three of the old traditional cuts of the runaway negro, with stick and bundle, which used to figure so prominently and elegantly in their papers. Such a classic illustration would undoubtedly arrest the African eye, tickle the African imagination, and convince the skeptical colored man of the perfect identity of interest which has always existed between the races of the South.

THE work on the Union Pacific Railroad and its various branches is not progressing as rapidly as might be desired at present. Operations during the past month were seriously retarded by rains and freshets. No trouble has yet been experienced on account of the Indian irregularities, but should a general Indian war ensue, work will meet likely have to be totally suspended.

Among the passengers on the train which ran into the land-slide at Wilmore, on Tuesday evening of last week, were Hon John Covode, of Westmoreland county, Hon Thomas Williams, of Alleghany county, and Hon. General Butler, who is actively searching for facts concerning the assassination of President Lincoln, has obtained positive evidence that it was never the intention of the conspirators to include Vice President Johnson among their victims, and that the movements of Atzerott about the Kirkwood House, with the various circumstances indicating a plot against the life of Mr. Johnson were purposely put forward as a blind. During a half-dozen years ending in the spring, Dan. Rice lived on a farm in Eric county, engaged in the delectable business of educating mules. Almost total retirement from the world and constant contact with the long-eared animals had the effect of imbuing his mind with mulish ideas and of investing his every action with assinine peculiarities. This fact was largely noticed during his late performance in this place as clown to a circus. Judge Taylor, of the same place, is strongly urged, as is Linn. Either would make a strong candidate, and a most acceptable judge."

STORM SIGNALS .- One of the last nventions or projects of science, is a system of storm signals, by which announcements may be made to the people of given localities of the approach of storm. It is not necessary to appris farmers of the immense loss sustained during harvest, by the sudden approach of a storm of hail or rain. Entire crop are frequently destroyed by these unlooked for calamities, the effect of which, had the farmer time to prepare, might, in many cases, he averted. What is now proposed is, that when a storm commence in any part of the country, and is travel ing in a certain direction, or spreading in many directions, the first telegrap station over which it passes should sent the news instantly to all the telegraph stations at county seats, hundreds of mile in advance in the direction that the storn seats a cannon might be kept ready, and as soon as the news is received of ar approaching storm, it is to be fired a intervals of two minutes if it is a hurri cane; at intervals of five minutes if the storm is traveling rapidly, and at interval of ten minutes if traveling slowly. As a cannon can be heard distinctly from fifteen to twenty miles in all directions, by firing one at each county seat, the farmers for hundreds of miles over the whole country would be warned in time to get their grain or hay under cover, or in a situation to shut out the rain.

A company is now being formed in the several States to put this plan, by arrangements with county officials, into practical operation. It looks feasible, and if properly managed, will save millions of dollars in crops usually damaged by rain during harvest .- Harrisburg Telegraph.

CHECKMATING THE REBELS .- General Sickles has shown that he is emphatically the right man in the right place. At the annual parade of the fire department of Charleston, S. C., on the 28th ult., it had been arranged that there should be no National flag in the procession. The General took cognizance of this ebullition of negative treason, and issued on order to Gen. Clous, his post commandant, whereof the following is the pith:

"I desire that you will at once send for the Chief of the Fire Department, and inform him that the National standard must be borne in front of the column; that an escort of honor, to consist of two members of each company present, will be detailed by himself to march with the colors; that the colors be placed opposite the reviewing personages on the ground designated for the review; and that every person in the column shall salute the colors by lifting his hat or cap on arriving at the point three paces distant from the colors, and carrying the cap uplifted, marching past the colors to the point three paces distant from the same."

To Soldiers .- The attention of soldiers is directed to the following act of Assembly, entitled "an act to authorize the Recorder of Deeds in the several counties of this Commonwealth, to record the discharges of all honorably discharged officers and soldiers :"

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the Recorder of Deeds in the several counties | Linton & Son, Edensburg, E.
