It is hoped these plain figures will teach Republicans the simple but important lesson that a mere numerical majority of voters will not carry an election, unless rent failure to appreciate the importance of the contest, is the primary cause of our defeat. Besides this, we had local difficulties and side issues to contend against sufficient of themselves to destroy us .---We lost votes in many places by reason of appreheusion of negro suffrage; and in Philadelphia on the question of city taxation, and what is known as the Sunday car question, and by sundry frauds. And worse than all these, our friends there nominated a ticket for city offices not acceptable to our people, mainly because it had no soldiers upon it. The soldiers themselves, to their credit be it recorded, stood up manfully to their principles, and voted with us as heretofore. But large numbers of their friends would not support the ticket; and in every Republican precinct in the city, there were from fifteen to one hundred and fifty of our friends who refused to vote. Thus we lost Philadelphia, and consequently the State.

The defeat of so worthy a candidate as Henry W. Williams is a humiliation to
