pig before fermented, it will overtask his stomach and spoil him. Lettuce is good for young pigs. It will stop the seours in them. The middlings should be put with the milk at night, after the feeding has been done, and allowed to be in the milk through the night, never allowing the swill tub to get quite empty, always leaving a little in the bottom for yeast .-The swill should never be permitted to get stale. Slop feed should be fed often, and | FR States. never more fed at a time than will be HO eaten up at once. Slop feed will make larger hogs than dry feed. After the pigs get to be from three to four months old. their food can be made stronger, but a pig will not bear much strong food until he begins to change from a pig into a hog, which will be known by his voice. In the West, where hogs are raised on a large scale, but one litter should be raised from a sow in a year, and the sow should have them in the month of May or June. The sows should run to grass, and may be fed on corn. The pigs should suck them as long as they will. In this way the pigs require but little care, and they get age so that they will winter well on corn. None but breeders should try to get more than one litter from a sow in a year. The fall litter will require too much care for the farmer. One litter can be got in April and another in September or October following, from one sow, but the spring pigs will have to be weaned from four to six weeks old, and fed on clear sour milk for two or three weeks after weaning, and fed often. New milk once a day will keep them from scouring .-Sour milk is better than new milk. New milk will first make the pig costive, then scour him. It will curdle in his stomach, but sour milk will not. The late fall pigs should suck the sow as they will, and the sows should be fed on warm slop feed, and fed often. The slop can be warmed by pouring hot water into the swill tub. A breeding sow should never be ted much

PRESERVING GREEN CORN FOR WIN-TER .- The canning of corn in families so generally fails that we cannot recommend the trial. The next best thing to canned corn is that which is properly dried. The first essential is good corn, and the next is to dry it carefully before it gets too old. Mrs. M. L. Gage, of Ross county, Ohio, communicates the following sensible ideas about preparing it :

"It is a wonder that so few should have any thing but field corn for table use ; and for drying there is a still greater contrast between the common field corn and the garden varieties. I have been used for years to drying corn. Boil the green ears Dr minute or two, just to harden the milk, then cut from the cob and spread on a cloth in the sun for two days, taking it in | Pa at night; it will then keep anywhere .-When cooked, it is better to soak it a few hours, and boil in the same water. In cold weather all that is wanted for a week er two may be wet. It cooks quicker and tastes better. A little milk and flour boiled in is almost as good as cream. 1 have not given up-drying corn, but for two years past I have put some down in sait, which gives another variety, and is more quickly prepared. At first I had difficulty in freshening it, and then it was comparatively tasteless, but now I boil the corn in one water a minute or two, turn the water off, add a few sliced potatoes, boil until they are done, drain off the water, and add cream or butter. We think this preparation tastes more like summer corn than the dried corn does. In salting, I cut the green corn without boiling, and pack it, alternating one pint of corn and a small handful of salt. When the versel is about full put on a cover that will fit down to the corn, and place a small weight on it, as it must be kept under the brine which it makes from its own juice. I have, for the past two years, been canning green corn with tomatoes. I use about one-fourth part corn, cooking the two together. I have never heard of but one case where green corn canned by itself did not spoil, but corn and tomatoes Pro eanned together is a perfect success."

What Does It Mean?

The Democratic platform, article 2d, says: "Amnesty for all past political offenses, and the regulation of the elective franchise in the States by their citi-

By an act of Congress passed April 9th, 1866, all persons born in the United States, except Indians not taxed, are declared to be citizens thereof. Also, by the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution, which was declared ratified by a certificate under the seal of the Secretary of State on the 20th of July last, the granting of citizenship to all persons described in the act of Congress above named is forever secured. In article 8th of the Democratic platform, it is further declared that the reconstruction acts of Congress are "usurpations, and unconstitutional, revolutionary, and void." Now, we ask what is the plain import of all this? Are the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution giving the right of citizenship to all native born persons, and the civil rights bill, parts of the reconstruction acts of Congress within the meaning of the Democratic platform? If so, then that party is pledged to treat that amendment, solemnly declared to be part of the Constitution, as forming no part of it, and the civil rights bill as a nullity. In other words, that party is committed, as well by its platform as by Gen. F. P. Blair's letters and speeches, to downright revolution. But if that bill and amendment are valid within the meaning of the Democratic resolutions, then the Democratic party is solemnly pledged by article 2d of its platform to allow the question of suffrage to be convirtue of that bill and amendment, of the respective States, and is thus committed to negro suffrage, female suffrage, and baby suffrage; for by that bill and amendment all persons, man or woman, young or old, white, black, or red, are citizens of achieved over the most persistent and the State wherein they were born or natu-DA ralized, and are also citizens of the United

The Center county Senatorial contested election case is a mine of untold richness. We have been looking over the details of the case lately, and have struck many placers that yield handsomely. For instance : G. H. Ziegler, inspector of the October (1867) election at Phillipsburg, swore before the Senatorial investigating committee that during that election-day he objected to a large number of Irishmen voting there, on the ground that their naturalization papers, though coffee-colored, were spurious; and particularly that he objected to the exercise of the elective franchise by a certain Irishman who openly admitted that he had been only nine months in the State. But the ready tact of this latter Democratic patriot was equal to any emergency. "He went out, and came back," swears Mr. Ziegler, "saying that he was Cor mistaken, and that he understood me to ask how long he had been in the county!" Bu He voted. Another of this precious gang, who must have forgotten the instructions of his Democratic masters, swore, upon being challenged, that he was only ninetoon years old! For a wonder, this was considered a sufficient bar to deny him a vote.

Thomas Reese, another witness, swore that he went to 'Squire Reynolds, a Democratic justice of the peace in Luzerne county, and asked for a naturalization paper "to vote for Clymer," at the same time making the voluntary acknowledgement that he had been in this country only eleven months. The accommodating Squire gave him the naturalization paper, remarking that "more like him could get them if they wanted them"-for $1.90

Truly the Democratic party, though the elf-styled champions of fairness and honesty, need watching!

Moving Into Line.

The monster mass meeting held here last Wednesday has had the effect of thoroughly waking up the Republicans of Northern Cambria. Before that meeting, comparative apathy and indifference prevailed. Now, all is energy-activitydetermination. Grant Clubs and Tanners' Clubs are forming in every election district, and on every passing breeze is borne the noise of the loyal battalions moving into line for the final conflict at the polls with that treason which they successfully combated in the field. A thorough canvass of all the Northern districts has been determined on, and several announcements of meetings will be found in this paper. One or more meetings will be held in every township and town, at such times as sin will be provided upon application to the that I have sent my Adjutant General to Chairman of the County Committee. Let tive the enthusiasm now prevalent continue. Work !- talk !- distribute Republican reading matter !- canvass every district !and all will be well.

SEYMOUR AND BLAIR, AND DEMOCRATS ALL, D'YE SEE THE HANDWRITING ON THE WALL?

The following dispatch to the Philadelphia Press shows how we met the enemy in Maine on Monday, and, as in Vermont. defeated him:

"Augusta, Me., Sept. 14.—The election of to-day closed the most exciting and most energetic campaign ever witnessed in Maine. The vote is larger by some thousands than ever before thrown. We have carried every Congressional district, the closest by 2,500 majority.

"We have carried every county, regaining the three that were carried by the Democrats last year. We have elected EVERY Senator and seven-eighths of the House of Representatives, and have rolled up a popular majority for Governor Chamberlain of 20,000! Our majority last year was 11,300, and our average majority for the past twelve years has been 13,600. In our trolled by such persons as are citizens, by great triumph of 1860 we had 16,000, and in 1864 we had 18,000.

"Our victory of to-day is by far the most brilliant that was ever won by the Republican party of Maine, and it has been maddened efforts of the Democracy.

Political Hari Kari.

As will be seen by reference to our advertising columns, Col. Wm. K. Piper, of Ebensburg, has come out as an Independent Candidate for State Senator in this district. The Colonel is a Republican What could have induced him to take this foolish step-to enter the lists against the regular nominee of the party, who, by the way, was the unanimous choice of the district for the position-is beyond our comprehension to fathom. Surely, he does not expect to be elected! He will get no Republican support; and even if every Democrat in the district cast his ballot for him-which will not be the case by a long chalk-he would yet fall short some 1,500 votes of being elected. The Colonel is an inveterate joker. The only hypothesis upon which we can account for this erratic step of his is that he is bent on perpetrating, though at his own expense, the hugest political joke of the campaign.

A GRAND Republican demonstration was held in Johnstown on Saturday last. The meeting was addressed by John M. Kennedy, of Phila., and others.

REPUBLICANS! remember that you must be assessed at least ten days before the election or you cannot vote. Attend to this duty now.

Seymour's Friends.

We reproduce as a matter of political information the literal text of the famous speech made by Horatio Seymour to the New York mob of 1863, which at the very moment of its delivery was but pausing in its mad career of murder, arson, and plunder. This mob by impeding the draft. and, more than that, drawing off from the force in the field large bodies of troops to keep the peace in New York, saved Lee from annihilation, and added two weary years to the duration of the war. We trust this speech in its naked infamy will be printed and reprinted through the length and breadth of the land. It needs no comment, and is the campaign document of the hour :

Democratic Estimate of Grant.

Reader, the following is a bona fide extract from the Pittsburg Post, (the leading Democratic organ in Western Pennsylvania,) written and printed prior to General Grant's nomination by the Republican party. Some plain truths are told therein-equally as true now as upon the day when they were first uttered. We want our Democratic friends to read, ponder, and reflect, and then decide whether they can afford to array themselves against a man in favor of whom a Democratic organ has said so much and so flattering words of praise:-

[From the Pittsburg Post, June 28, 1867.] THE DUTY OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY IN

A CERTAIN EVENT. Suppose that contrary to the wish of some of the leading Radical Black Republicans, who want the office themselves, Gen. Grant should be nominated for the Presidency by the Republican party, what course ought the Demogratic party to pursue? Ought we to nominate a man in opposition to General Grant? Ought we to charge him with being an enemy to his his establishment, is determined to apply country, or in favor of unjust measures, merely because he may have received said nomination?

We are inclined to believe that more depends upon General Grant now, than upon any other individual in the United States. We believe him to be far superior ty. Give him a trial and be convinced. to the majority of the far-sighted politicians who have been ruling the nation without bringing peace or economy to our legislation. He is known to all the people as a straightforward man, and so far as can be judged, a man well disposed to deal fairly with the people of all sections of the Union. Certainly if such a man were nominated by the Democratic party, we ang. 13] would advocate his election in the hope that his election would conduce to the public welfare. Our aim should be to strengthen his hands; to render him as much as possible independent of party and to elect him as the President of the people. If suit the times. The cheapest as well as the unanimously, so much the better.

We solemly believe that if the people generally of the United States can come together with unanimity on General Grant, in regard to the Presidency, it will be the Louis, Mo. happiest thing for our country that could possibly occur. The future good effects of this course are almost incalculable. We earnest'y ask our Democratic friends everywhere to consider this subject care-

The Rights of Labor.

The Democrats profess an extraordinary respect for the rights of labor, and this is the way they show it. The tollowing sold as cheap if not cheaper than elsewhere card is published in the Memphis Appeal: "The members of the Democratic Club of colored men can obtain from the President of the Central Club cards that cannot counterfeited, recommending them for employment to conservatives. No others need apply. We hope that hereafter, when any Democrat desires to employ a colored man in any capacity, he will ask to see his card, and if none is produced will refuse to employ him. To employ those who have none will be to give aid and comfort to the enemy. Members of the club desiring cards will please procure certificates of membership from the secretary. The Committee of the Central Club appointed to register the names of colored men needing employment or relief, and to procure either for them, consists of Martin Kelley, D. Danbury, and Thomas C.
