

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Hang out the great, illustrious names Of noble men of noble deed, Who ne'er their country's trust betrayed, Nor faltered in her hour of need.

FOR PRESIDENT: GEN'L. ULYSSES S. GRANT. FOR VICE PRESIDENT: HON. SCHUYLER COLFAX.

FOR AUDITOR GENERAL: GENERAL JOHN F. HARTMAN. FOR SURVEYOR GENERAL: GENERAL JACOB M. CAMPBELL.

FOR CONGRESS: HON. DANIEL J. MORRELL.

FOR STATE SENATOR: HON. HARRY WHITE.

COUNTY TICKET. Assembly—JAMES MORLEY, Johnstown. Prothonotary—J. M. CHRISTY, Gallitzin.

TICKETS.—The Republican election tickets for the northern districts of Cambria county are now printed and ready for distribution at this office.

Republicans!

Are you assessed? If you are not, be sure to have your names on the assessment rolls on or before next Saturday, 3d inst.

The Georgia Riot.

Democracy has allied itself to the rebel element of the South, and naturally feels a sort of responsibility for the conduct of its friends. But spite of all, they will become obstreperous.

How Are You?

Affairs are very lovely in the Democratic camp! While the Democratic leaders rely for Irish votes on the hatred of that people toward the negro, the Catholic Telegraph of Cincinnati publishes the following paragraph:

"The Catholics are laboring among the freedmen in Baltimore. In their schools and churches white and black sit together. The priests openly declare the doctrine that God makes no distinction, and the Church cannot."

And comments on it as follows: "When was the writer of that item born—where has he lived? He must have been taking a Rip Van Winkle snooze for some eighteen hundred years."

What the Telegraph says is true. That Church has never made distinction of race or color, but sought to proselyte all races, all colors, and place them on an equality within her borders.

The New York Freeman's Journal, perhaps the foremost Catholic paper in America, says:

"Affairs are very remarkably mixed up. Men may be excused for getting their heads muddled. We are called on to support a candidate, on National grounds, that was himself avowedly in favor of another candidate, most antagonistic to all decent and proper ideas of federal government."

Another Democratic paper, the Irish People, and very popular among its countrymen, abandons Seymour and Blair.

The New York World and Brick Pomeroy's new paper, the New York Democrat, are more busily engaged in fighting each other than in fighting the Republicans.

Reverdy Johnson, though counted a Democrat, sends back word from England that he can't go Seymour and Blair.

"All eyes are turning toward Pennsylvania. What is the prospect in Pennsylvania? Is the universal question among the politicians. Is there any hope for Seymour in her coming October election? None, from all the signs of the times."

The Canvass.

The sky is bright, and all things promise well. Vermont and Maine have sounded one bugle-note of the contest, and have made themselves the harbingers of one of the greatest victories ever achieved by a political party.

The sky is bright, and all things promise well. Vermont and Maine have sounded one bugle-note of the contest, and have made themselves the harbingers of one of the greatest victories ever achieved by a political party.

In New York the conservative journals are engaged in discussing the question "Ought Seymour to resign?" It seems to us to be a topic hardly worth debate.

Coffee Again.

We have been pursuing our investigations into the matter of the Democratic coffee-colored naturalization paper frauds of last year, and find that the subject is not yet exhausted.

William H. Swanzy, an inspector of the (1867) election in Oliver township, Mifflin county, testified before the investigating committee that one Henry Hixon came to the polls, and, after swearing that he was born in 1846, voted. Mrs. Barbara Hixon, mother of Henry, testified that he was born in 1848, and was therefore only 19 years old when he voted, and produced the family record in substantiation of her sworn statement.

General John Ross, of McVeytown, who is described in the testimony as a "leading Democrat," is the man who is credited with the feat of putting Hixon through and polling this illegal vote.

This Ross was put on the stand. He testified that he sent for one John Harely to vote; that he expected he would vote Democratic; that he used to vote so. Who and what John Harely is, is shown by the testimony of Dr. Abram Rothrock: "Am acquainted with John Harely; have known him for years; he is idiotic; has been so since I have known him; he is utterly incompetent to attend to any business whatever; is in charge of his parents; he is feeble; can do no work unless directed by some one; cannot talk intelligently; his father told me he could do no work; was no account; I was a member of the board of enrollment; his name was taken off the list on account of mental disability."

Ross further testified that Harely "only voted when the election was close!"

That Ross is a "leading Democrat" appears to us to be fully established by the foregoing testimony. He leads minors and idiots up to vote.

Republicans of Cambria county! take warning from this expose of Democratic tactics at an election. Watch the "leading Democrats" at the polls. The coming election will be a "close" one here, and the votes of minors and idiots, if allowed to be cast, would count just as much in their favor as the votes of legal and well-qualified electors.

Maine.

Our Democratic cotemporaries have been figuring hard to make it appear that the recent election in Maine has resulted more favorably for them than those of former years. We have now complete official returns from all parts of the State except one town and twenty-seven districts.

Betting in politics is no argument, yet it is looked upon as a straw showing which way the wind blows. The Johnstown Tribune says that it is authorized to announce that a friend has deposited $500 at the First National Bank of Johnstown as a wager on the result of the Presidential election, if any Democrat can be found who will accept it.

Beware.

The Baltimore American and Harrisburg State Guard warn the Republicans of this State of the importation of voters from Maryland. Our friends in Westmoreland are in more danger than we of being imposed on by these Maryland importations, yet we say to all Republican friends that they should be on the alert.

SOLDIERS! just now the Democrats profess to be your warmest friends. But remember that during the war they ridiculed you and belittled your services in the field, and called you opprobrious names. They opposed, by word and deed, a draft to fill up your decimated ranks. They voted against enfranchising you. Remember this at the election.

EDITORIAL ETCHINGS.

Reading matter on every page. Let every soldier read Gen. Sweitzer's speech, printed on our outside to-day. Pendleton will spout repudiation in Pittsburg on the 5th.

Are you opposed to paying the rebel war debt? Vote for Daniel J. Morrell. Frank Blair spoke in Pittsburg in favor of a new rebellion on Monday.

A vote for Morley for Assembly is a vote for a Republican U. S. Senator. Ben. Butler has been re-nominated for Congress in the 5th Mass. district.

The Indians whipped the U. S. forces on the plains a couple of weeks ago. You must be assessed on or before next Saturday, or you cannot vote at the October election.

Gen. Harry White has been tried in the State Senate, and not found wanting. Vote for him. The latest secession from the Democratic party is Hon. J. T. Brady, the distinguished New York lawyer.

Are you in favor of Protection to American Industry? Vote for Daniel J. Morrell. Robert Lincoln, son of ex-President Lincoln, was married on the 24th ult. to Miss Nellie Harlan, daughter of Senator Harlan.

Who are the "bloated bondholders" in Cambria county? The farmer, the laboring man, and the mechanic. Chief Justice Chase, ex-candidate for the Presidency, is announced to have written a letter declaring for Grant and Colfax.

A change in the management of our County affairs will work to the good of the tax-payers. Vote the whole Republican County Ticket. The Democratic leaders of Cambria county stumped the county in 1863 in opposition to the draft. They are now stumping it in opposition to reconstruction.

Gen. Samuel P. Kears, well known in this State, died in West Virginia lately. He was a brother-in-law of Gen. James Potts, of Johnstown. Whelan has been convicted by the Ottawa, Canada, court of assassinating McGee, and is sentenced to be hanged on the 10th day of December next.

The Republican mass meeting at Pittsburg on Thursday last was very large. The attendance was estimated at from 30,000 to 40,000, and the procession was eight miles long.

A great insurrection is now in progress in Spain, which may end in deposing Isabella, the last of the Bourbons, and in giving a Republican form of government to that effete monarchy.

Horatio Seymour boasts that he never loaned a dollar to the Government during the war, while many a loyal woman gave not only her husband and son, but invested her little earnings in her country's cause.

Robert Douglas, eldest son of Stephen A. Douglas, and private secretary of Gov. Holden, of North Carolina, delivered a speech in favor of Grant and Colfax at a mass meeting at Raleigh on the 16th ult.

The Democrats of Cambria county during the war called the Union soldiers "Lincoln hirelings," "dogs," and "assassins." Boys in Blue! can you vote with these Democrats now?

The Democrats say that if Seymour is elected, taxation will cease. This means simply repudiation, for taxes are absolutely necessary to pay the National war debt created by Democrats, principal and interest.

The Democrats of Cambria county pronounced the war for the Union a failure. They are now pronouncing the reconstruction measures of Congress a failure. But the war wasn't a failure, nor will the reconstruction policy be a failure.

Every Republican voter should remember that the October election will virtually decide the November election. As Pennsylvania goes in October, so will she go in November. And as Pennsylvania goes in November, so goes the Union.

A Southern ballad-monger has shed new light on the causes of Lee's surrender in the following verse: When gallant Lee, exhausted by The victories he had won, Gave up his sword and stacked his arms, Ulysses' work seemed done.

John H. Surratt, the assassination conspirator, has been discharged from custody, on the ground that the indictment against him was not found within the time prescribed by the statute of 1879. In other words, he escapes punishment by pleading the limitation law.

As a soldier, Col. John P. Linton was true and tried, and as a man, he is loved and respected by all who know him. But as a politician, he is not sound. He is the standard-bearer of the party which opposed the war for the Union and now opposes the reconstruction policy of Congress. Vote for Daniel J. Morrell.

George William Curtis closes a political letter eloquently and impressively as follows: "May God give the country grace to lift up its eyes to behold the bloody years from Sumter to Appomattox, to reflect who and what made those years, and then to move forward to bring the rebellion at the polls, as it has already brought it in the field, to an unconditional surrender."

A short time ago, the Democratic newspapers were profusely illustrated with pictures of roosters and other emblems of rejoicing, in honor of a "great victory" in Colorado. It now appears, from the official count of the votes cast, that Bradford, Republican, is elected representative to Congress from that Territory by 79 majority over Belden, Democrat. The roosters will now roost lower.

General Dix on Seymour.

Gen. Dix, the American Minister at Paris, has sent the following letter to a friend in New-York. It was not written for publication, but the gentleman, to whom it was addressed has consented to give it to the public:

PARIS, Sept. 4, 1868. MY DEAR SIR: It was my hope that my distance from home would have secured me from all participation in the political excitement prevailing there. But I notice an announcement in one of the newspapers that I am heart and hand with Mr. Seymour. I am not aware of anything in the present or the past, which could rightfully subject me to such an imputation.

I have been acquainted with Mr. Seymour more than a quarter of a century. He is an amiable gentleman of unexceptionable private character, and of respectable talents. But you know as well as I that he has not a single qualification for the successful execution of the high official trust to which he has been nominated; and he is especially deficient in that firmness of purpose, which, in critical emergencies, is the only safeguard against public disorder and calamity. He has been twice, at different times, Governor of the State of New-York; and he has in neither case had the talent or the tact to keep the Democratic party of the State together more than two years. I should regard his election at this juncture, when steadiness of purpose, decision, and self-control are so much needed, as one of the greatest calamities that could befall the country.

Moreover, he has been put in nomination by a convention which has openly declared the purpose of those it represents, to pay the greater part of the public debt, contracted to preserve the Union, in depreciated paper. Such a measure would, in my judgment, be a palpable violation of the public faith, pledged under circumstances which should have been binding on all honorable men. Mr. Seymour has made public speeches to show that it is our duty to pay the debt in specie. In accepting his nomination to the Presidency he adopts the declaration that it ought to be paid in paper. I know nothing so humiliating in the history of American politics as this tergiversation. It was perhaps, not unfit that Mr. Seymour, after presiding in 1864 over the Chicago Convention, which declared the war a failure, should preside over the convention of 1868, in which a proposition to discredit the debt contracted to carry on the war was received with "tremendous cheering," and that he should be the chosen instrument to execute this act of National turpitude.

I do not believe that the wishes or opinions of the great body of the Democratic party are fairly expressed in these proceedings. They have nothing in common with the statesmanlike views of policy, and the high sense of national honor, which guided the party when Martin Van Buren, William L. Marcy, Silas Wright, Lewis Cass, and Stephen A. Douglas were among its most conspicuous members.

I see but one source of safety for the country under existing circumstances, and that is in the election of Gen. Grant. In his decision of character, good sense, moderation, and disinterested patriotism, I believe the South will have a far better hope of regaining the position in the Union to which it is entitled, than under a man whose political career has been in nothing more conspicuously marked than in an utter infirmity of purpose.

Independently of all these considerations, I should be greatly surprised if the people of the United States were to elect as their Chief Magistrate, a man who was making, at the Academy of Music, on the 4th of July, 1863, a speech, deficient of all the characteristics of an elevated love of country, at the very hour when Gen. Grant was carrying the victorious arms of the Union into Vicksburg, and when thousands of our fellow-countrymen were pouring out their blood on the plains of Gettysburg, in defense of their homes, and the Government which Mr. Seymour was doing all in his power to embarrass and discredit.

I am quite willing that you should show this letter to any friends who may take an interest in my opinion in regard to the coming election, and I am particularly desirous of removing the impression, if it exists, that I am in favor of Mr. Seymour, or the repudiation of any portion of the public debt. I am, dear sir, very truly, yours, JOHN A. DIX.

Bogus Greenbacks and Bogus Democracy. A Washington dispatch asserts that a gentleman of Blair county, Pennsylvania, has forwarded to Treasurer Spinner a sample of bogus greenbacks which the Democrats are circulating as an electioneering dodge. The object was to ascertain whether it was not a violation of the law establishing the national currency, and Mr. Spinner referred the matter to Solicitor Jordan, of the Treasury Department, who is of the opinion that all such imitations, for whatever purpose issued, are clearly violations of the law, and parties concerned in issuing or trafficking in them are liable to fine and imprisonment for so doing. General Spinner has written a reply to the gentleman in Blair county, in which he sets forth these facts, and eloquently shows that if Seymour and Blair are elected these unauthorized emissions will unquestionably supersede the genuine national currency, which will become valueless. The Blair county gentleman states that large numbers of these imitations have been in circulation in Western Pennsylvania and adjoining States, and that many simple minded farmers have been imposed upon and received them for money, being told by interested parties that they were just as good as greenbacks. General Spinner has also received information that this villainous imitation has been largely circulated through the South among the colored people, and passed among them in immense quantities, the unsophisticated blacks being told that if they vote for Seymour and Blair these notes will pass as money as good as greenbacks, to buy corn, potatoes or other necessities of life.

SECRETARY STANTON spoke for Grant and Colfax at Steubenville last week.
