

Party Prospects.

Before Grant received the nomination of the Republican National Convention for the Presidency, and while some hope yet lingered in their breasts that he might possibly be induced to receive a like nomination at the hands of Democrats, he was a splendid soldier, a man of great qualities, and an honor to the republic.

All the world over, wherever political parties dare openly exist, there is, in one aspect of the case, only one occasion of animosity between them—the animosity engendered by the efforts of a party in power to remain in power, and the struggle of the opposition to oust their fortunate rivals and hold the reins of government themselves.

1. Economy in the administration of the government.

2. The bringing of the country back to specie payments without a financial crisis.

3. The honorable settlement of our difficulties with England.

In all these particulars, there exists every prospect that the present administration will prove a success. That it will be wise, patriotic, pure, and popular, we are confident.

One other thing remains on which our friends of the opposition rely for the attainment of power—the commitment of the Republican party to the XVth amendment to the Constitution.

THE FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT to the Constitution of the United States has passed the Legislature of Pennsylvania by a strict party vote.

THE CONNECTICUT election held on Tuesday, resulted in the choice of Marshall Jewell, Governor, and the election of the entire Republican State ticket.

organization, while the success of Grant's administration—a thing assured—in the points named fixes it as the party which is to govern the country during the next score of years—a period in which there will be more development, more real prosperity and honor, than the country has ever before known in any period of equal length.

"Come, Let Us Cross Over the River."

With a wearisome "leader" to write—tired, hungry, thirsty, and with no ideas of consequence in their head—there arrived on the margin of a certain Tuesday night, the immortal Messrs. Woodruff, of the Johnstown Democrat.

In this impressive picture, we find an example for all editors, in the great battle of life before us, and which said great battle of life must continue to be waged till the life spoken of is no more.

As a matter of history, it may be proper to here say that the remark, "Come, let us cross over the river, and rest in the shade of the trees!" was originally made by Stonewall Jackson while in the delirium preceding death, in Richmond, after the mortal wound received by him in battle.

The Tenure of Office Bill.

The Tenure of Office bill as amended by the committee of conference has passed both houses of Congress. It in effect provides that the President's power of removal or suspension is not in any way dependent on changes or reasons, but may be exercised in his own discretion; that no removal can be made during the session of the Senate except by consent of that body given in confirming a successor; that the President may suspend at pleasure during vacation, and appoint successors who shall receive all pay and emoluments of the office to which they are appointed; that nominations in case of suspension must be made within thirty days after the re-assembling of the Senate; that if during this session the President and Senate fail to agree on some one suspended, the officer goes back at the end of the session. This is all there is of the act as it now stands, and it applies to every official, except Judges of the United States Courts.

THE FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT to the Constitution of the United States has passed the Legislature of Pennsylvania by a strict party vote. all the Republican members voted for and all the Democratic members against it.

Resolutions.

We, the undersigned, having been appointed by the different temperance organizations of this place, a joint committee, to take action upon an article that appeared in The Alleghanian of the 25th of March, condemnatory of a family newspaper known as the Temperance Indicator, thereby causing great pain and deep regret to the many friends in this locality of this glorious "reform"; and whereas, there is also a direct implication in said article that the different temperance organizations have proved "totally inefficient to do more than deliver some from the flames while the fire burns on," respectfully submit the following resolutions:

Resolved 1st. That we deplore the publication of this article, because of its unwarranted attack upon the cause of temperance and its vindicators.

Resolved 2d. That the course of the Editor of the Temperance Indicator in publishing the names of persons who are signers to petitions to the Court of Quarter Sessions for tavern license, points out a new and original method of preventing many disreputable persons from getting licenses.

Resolved 3d. That we further approve the conduct of said Editor in standing up manfully for what he has done when attacked by the political press of his own and other counties, and believe it to be our duty as well as our pleasure to take this method of making known our approval of and our desire to support the Temperance Indicator.

Resolved 4th. That we most heartily recommend to the patronage of a discerning public the Temperance Indicator as an able and efficient exponent of our glorious cause.

Resolved 5th. That as men true to the temperance cause, true to the obligations we have taken, true to the brethren wherever they may be and in whatever sphere they are working, it becomes our duty to express our disapprobation, in as emphatic a manner as possible, of the editorial article published in the Ebersburg, Alleghanian of the 25th of March, under the head of "an excellent family newspaper."

Resolved 6th. That as temperance organizations, we have good hopes and great encouragement from the large accessions daily made to our ranks, that our work is not in vain, and that with the blessing of God "we shall yet reap if we faint not."

Resolved 7th. That these resolutions be published in the Indicator and Alleghanian.

A REPORT recently made to Congress by the architect of the Capitol extension shows that over $320,000 have been expended since the year 1866 in merely decorating the building with works of art.

GREAT ROBBERY.—Undoubtedly the heaviest, boldest and most unparalleled robbery that ever took place in Philadelphia, and which, perhaps, has had no equal in the country since the day of Buchanan, was perpetrated sometime between six o'clock on Sunday morning and four o'clock in the afternoon.

We have room on our books for a few more subscribers. Come in, friends.

TWITCHELL.—A Philadelphia dispatch, dated April 3rd says:

George S. Twitchell, Jr., sentenced to be executed April 8th, for the murder of Mrs. Hill, his mother-in-law, this morning made a confession to his spiritual adviser, Rev. Mr. Bringham, and Prison Inspector Perkins. He says:

"I went to my room on the night of the murder, and instead of going to bed I laid down on the lounge and fell asleep. My wife was in bed at the time. I was aroused by repeated calls, and ran down stairs, where I found her much excited, saying, 'I have had a quarrel with mother, and killed her; save or help me to hide it.' We then threw the body out of the window. I went down stairs and washed my hands. My wife went to bed where she remained until the servant girl arrived. We were in bed about twenty minutes. I made a solemn vow to the Eternal God that I would never reveal it, but I cannot keep it any longer. I am sorry that I said I knew nothing about it, but I did it with the vow in my mind to save my wife. I now make this disclosure that I may have peace with God. Geo. S. Twitchell, Jr."

This confession creates great excitement. The case has been carried before the Supreme Court of the United States, at Washington, by counsel for the prisoner. It is said that Mrs. Twitchell has fled the city.

THE NEW postage stamps have made their appearance. The one cent contains the head of Franklin; two—post boy on horseback; three—locomotive on the track; six—head of Washington; ten—shield and eagle; twelve—steamer in midocean; fifteen—landing of Columbus; twenty—four—report of committee to congress in 1776 on the Declaration of Independence; thirty—shield and eagle on battle flags; ninety—head of Lincoln. These stamps are smaller than the old ones, square and of different color; the old three cent was red—the new blue.

EVERY day brings forth new testimony to the efficacy of that well-known remedy Hooftland's German Bitters. Many thousands of persons who are to-day suffering from disorders of the digestive organs, who are emaciated, weak, and unable to attend to their business, could soon become well, and robust, by the use of a few bottles of this Bitters. Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and Debility of the System, soon vanish before this powerful remedy. Its effects are almost miraculous.

Hooftland's German Bitters is a very useful article as a tonic, and as an appetizer. It is not an intoxicating drink, and may be used beneficially by persons of all ages. Respectfully Yours, James Ross Snowden, Proprietor of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, writes Philadelphia, Sept. 14th, 1867. Hooftland's German Bitters is a very useful article as a tonic, and as an appetizer. It is not an intoxicating drink, and may be used beneficially by persons of all ages.

L. LANGSTROTH'S PATENT MOVABLE COMB BEE HIVE!—Pronounced the best ever yet introduced in this county or State. Any person buying a family right can have their Bees transferred from an old box to a new one. In every instance in which this has been done the result has been entirely satisfactory, and the first take of honey has invariably paid all expenses, and frequently exceeded them. Proof of the superior merits of this invention will be found in the testimony of every man who has given it a trial, and among the number are the gentlemen named below, and their experience should induce every one interested in Bees to BUY A FAMILY RIGHT!

Henry C. Kirkpatrick, of Carroll township, took 100 pounds of surplus honey from two hives, which he sold at 35 cents per pound. Adam Deitrich, of Carroll township, took from two hives 100 pounds of surplus honey, the first take of honey has invariably paid all expenses, and frequently exceeded them. Proof of the superior merits of this invention will be found in the testimony of every man who has given it a trial, and among the number are the gentlemen named below, and their experience should induce every one interested in Bees to BUY A FAMILY RIGHT!

Peter Campbell, from one hive obtained 30 pounds of surplus honey at one time. Quite a number of similar statements authenticated by some of the best citizens of Cambria county, could be obtained in proof of the superior merits of Langstroth's Patent Movable Comb Bee Hive. Persons wishing to purchase family right should call on or address PETER CAMPBELL, Carrolltown, Pa. Nov. 26, 1868-14

TERMS: $1.300 for the entire property, $500 in $500 in hand; the balance in payments. Possession given the 1st of April, if desired. For particulars, apply to or address A. A. BARKER, Ebersburg, Pa. mar17]
