REPORT says that the hay crop is short.

RAISE or make something for the Fair.

Who will take the book premium this year?

E. C. HUMES leads the county in Hungarian grass.

MR. JOHN P. HARRIS must be fond of good butter.

CAREFULLY read "Special Premiums" on pages 22 and 23 of premium list.

APPROPOS of the potato fiend, see Allen's advertisement in another column.

"THE idea of building a thousand dollar fence to keep out a fifty dollar cow."

IN Missouri, it is predicted, the corn crop will be greater than ever known before.

CANKER WORMS are making fearful ravages among the apple orchards of Maine.

THE potato bug has made its appearance in various sections of Eastern New York.

MOWERS to be tested at the College on the 27th, and Reapers on the 28th instant.

THE wheat crop of Canada, about which there was such apprehension, promises to be quite up to if not more than average.

WORKERS in wood should not fail to look at the premiums for "Native Woods of Centre county," in Class 20 of our premium list.

THE Oneida Community are reported as having paid $1,300 for four Ayrshire cows from a well known breeder of those animals.

THE beautiful little stream which flows just behind our animal stalls, on the fair ground, is capital for watering and washing stock.

THE Prussian Government, in its budget of the present year, appropriates a sum of $60,000 for the improvement of agricultural stock.

SOME farmers in the upper end of Dauphin county have planted corn for the third time this year, on account of the ravages of the cut worm.

THE production of poultry in the United States is about 250,000,000 pounds annually, worth $5,000,000, the product of eggs yielding a like sum.

THE Pennsylvania Fruit Growers' Society will hold their next annual meeting at Doylestown, Pa., commencing on the 19th of January, 1876.

WE have 50 stalls for horses, 95 for cattle, 18 pig-pens, and 6 sheep-pens, on our fair grounds. Let them all be filled with good stock at our next Fair.

WE imagine the report that D. S. KELLER, Esq., intends to go into the "Show business," originates in the fact that he offers a "special premium" for wild animals. Hunt 'em up, boys.

AN investigation by the Statistician of the Agricultural Department shows that the use of the drill, in seeding wheat, saves one-sixth of the seed and increases the aggregate product of winter wheat ten per cent.

THE cherry was introduced into England by the Romans. Pliny says: "The cherry did not exist in Italy before the period of the victory gained over Mithridates by L. Lucullus, in the year of the city 680. He was the first to introduce this tree from Pontus; and now in the course of one hundred and twenty years, it has travelled beyond the ocean, and arrived in Britannia even."

CONCERNING MILK.—At a recent meeting of the Royal Dublin Society, Professor Cameron read a paper on the Chemistry of Milk. He stated that the white color and opacity of milk were not due, as was commonly supposed, to the liquid being in a fatty emulsion, but to the fact that the fat globules in milk were invested with a caseous solid membrane which reflected light. By appropriate treatment all the fats of butter could be extracted from milk, and still the residue would retain the characteristic appearance of that fluid. The solids in cow's milk never sank below 12 per cent. in farm cows on poor pastures.—Boston Journal of Chemistry.

THE DOG NUISANCE.

The dogs in Kentucky are said to have destroyed $200,000 worth of sheep in the past year.

The wool clip of Michigan, the present year, amounts to 6,000,000 pounds.

We find the above items floating about the country, in different papers. Placed in close proximity they are decidedly suggestive. Suppose we carefully preserve them, and send them to our legislators next winter. It might be that their careful consideration would tend toward a law which would effectually do away with the dog nuisance in our own State. A writer in the World suggests "that a law be passed requiring every owner of a dog to have it annually registered and numbered in the office of the township constable, with a full description for identification; the dog to wear a collar with the number of the register on it, the tax to be paid at the time of registering, such tax to be high enough to prevent any but good dogs from being thus registered. It should be lawful for any person to kill any dog not wearing his collar and number, and it should be the duty of the township constable to kill or cause to be killed every dog so found, whenever informed by any one of the existence of any such unregistered dog. The tax to be used to pay for the sheep killed or injured. Such a law would insure the payment of the tax or the death of the dog, and would add thousands of dollars to the wealth of our State, in the increased production of wool and mutton."

EDUCATION FOR EVERYONE.

The Pennsylvania State College offers to the people of Centre County, whether farmers or business men, advantages of which many in other sections are deprived. Their sons and daughters may there find a course of instruction which will fit them for any pursuit which they may feel inclined to choose. The Courses are the Agricultural, the Scientific, and the Classical.

The expenses for the college year of forty weeks are about $220.00, which may be reduced to $130.00 or $140.00, by the students boarding themselves. Such students are offered every facility possible that they may succeed. There are sixteen (16) students boarding themselves at present, five of them being young ladies.

The institution is in better condition than it has ever been, and improvements are being made constantly.

Catalogues and other information may be obtained by addressing the President, JAMES CALDER, D.D., State College, Centre County, Penna.
