

THE FREE LANCE.

VOL. I.

STATE COLLEGE, PA., FEBRUARY, 1888.

No. 8.

THE FREE LANCE.

Published monthly during the college year by the Students of The Pennsylvania State College.

—o—
STAFF.

EDITOR,

GEO. M. DOWNING, '88.

ASSOCIATE EDITORS:

WM. M. PORTER, '88. CAROLINE R. HUNTER, '88.

CURTIN G. ROOP, '89. JOHN S. WELLER, '89.

W. B. N. HAWK, '89. GEO. R. MEEK, '90.

JAMES C. MOCK, '90.

Business Manager: H. WALTON MITCHELL, '90.

Assist. Business Manager: WM. H. WALKER, '90.

—o—
TERMS: { One Volume (9 mos.) - - - $1.00
Single Copies, - - - .15
Payable in Advance.

Contributions of matter and other information are requested from all members and ex-members of the College.

Literary matter should be addressed to the Editor.

Subscriptions, and all business communications, should be addressed to the Business Manager.

Entered at State College Post Office as second class matter.

THE trustees have arranged that the Library shall be open all day. This is something which this paper has been advocating ever since it came into existence. We hereby extend our thanks to the trustees.

* * *

THERE is a rumor circulated to the effect that Pennsylvania State College is to have a signal service station. We hope for the confirmation of this report. The surrounding country is well adapted to the requisites of a station, and such a move would undoubtedly be of great value to the experimental station and farm.

* * *

FOR some years past, there has been a telegraph line running throughout the college building, which is supported by the students. This line has now about a dozen instruments on it. It is of great profit to students to learn telegraphy, as it never comes amiss in our after-life experiences. Not only is the knowledge of telegraphy of much importance, but the convenience of easy communication from one part of the building to another is of great consequence.

* * *

A COMMITTEE has been appointed by the Junior class to make inquiry as to the expense of issuing an annual, containing the records of sports, the histories of the societies, &c. Now this is one thing which we have needed for a long time, and many moves have been made in this direction before, but without success. The one great drawback is the cost of publishing the book, but by active canvassing we think that this could be avoided. The committee which has been appointed is one of unusual "push," and we believe that before long we will have an annual to show what we are doing in the way of improvement from year to year.