

may have been some good in each of the competent parts, in the conglomerations now served, there is neither taste nor beauty. It is needless to remark that "Ghost" has gathered together quite a collection of sopranos, altos, tenors and basses, for the effect of this organization can be heard by all every morning in chapel when the customary song is sung. The only wonder to us is that the organization is so large, considering the advantages for local training at hand at P. S. C.

Thanksgiving has come and gone. The day was well observed by all our students as a day set apart by our government especially to give thanks to Him who is our bounteous giver. In the morning, prayer meeting was held by the Y. M. C. A. in the college chapel at 10 A. M. At 11 o'clock A. M., services were conducted in the M. E. church by the pastor. The college was notably quiet during the whole day and evening, boisterousness of no kind was indulged in. Many calls were made by the students in the evening, who seemed to have spent the day pleasantly and profitably.

PERSONALS.

'68. Professor W. A. Buckhout was a delegate to the National Forestry Convention, which was held at Atlanta, Georgia, during the first part of this month.

'73. William Allison, and Milton S. Lytle, of '61, have been elected to the Legislature of this State, by their respective districts.

'79. A. O. Smith, lawyer in Clearfield, Pa., and Miss Helen Wallace, daughter of Hon. William A. Wallace, of Clearfield, were united in holy wedlock on October the 17th.

'85. H. C. Rothrock is principal of the Boalsburg Academy.

'85. C. C. Chesney, of Doylestown, has accepted a position as chemist, in Great Barrington, Mass.

'86. Dr. H. B. McDonnell was wedded to one of Baltimore's charming young ladies on November 8th. Mrs. McDonnell's maiden name we have been unable to obtain. They will make their home at Pittsburgh, Pa., where Dr. McDonnell will practice his profession.

'87. W. P. Strouse is on an engineering corp, now at work in Clearfield county.

'87. A. G. Wilson is confined to his residence in Loveville, by sickness.

'88. J. R. Rose, of Allegheny, is contemplating taking a post-graduate course at Yale.

'88. G. M. Downing, of West Chester, has obtained a position with an electrical engineering company, in Chicago, Ill.

'88. G. J. Thomas, who left college during his senior year, intends to return this coming spring term, and join the class of '89.

'89. W. L. Barclay, of Sinnemahoning, was here about November 15th. Wat has been promoted to head clerk in his father's office.

'90. W. E. Stevenson, of Pittsburgh, is with us at this writing. Walter has a great love for his alma mater.

'90. L. A. Lamson is in the employ of a book house in Westerly, R. I. Lamson expects to return to P. S. C. next fall term.

'91. J. H. Smiley will undertake the editing of the "Franklin Republican" this winter. This is one of Venango county's papers.

Miss Katie Gossler, of Columbia, is visiting Lieutenant and Mrs. Pague.

Miss E. Torrey, a former student, has organized a kindergarten school in the village.

Professor Barnard has moved into one of the new villas in the town, and Lieutenant Pague into his new and cozy home on the North campus.

SOCIALS.

One of the pleasantest parties this term was given by Professor and Mrs. Reber, in their rooms on second floor, from eight to ten o'clock P. M., Saturday eve, November 24th. Among those in-