

The new reports and catalogues for the year 1890-91 have been put in the hands of students.

The Faculty having granted Monday, June 1st, as a holiday, many of the college men took advantage of this and made flying visits home.

On the 26th of May the Engineering students of the Junior class went to Bellefonte in order to inspect the workings of some of the furnaces there.

The Y. M. C. A. has elected Loyd, '92, and R. B. Mattern, '93, as delegates to the Northfield, Massachusetts, Summer School, to be held June 29th.

The young lady students of the cottage and the members of the Senior class were given a reception by Prof. and Mrs. Jackson at their home on Saturday evening, May 30th.

Lieut. Wolf has inaugurated a new system of punishments for infractions of military discipline. Instead of cleaning the rifles as formerly, the offenders are required to walk guard for periods proportionate to the offense.

A party composed principally of the professors and their wives started on the morning of June 1st for Bear Meadows. Soon after leaving Boalsburg the engine was disabled and the party was compelled to return to the college.

The sixth and last Rhetorical Exhibition took place on Wednesday evening, June 3rd. The speakers were as follows: Messrs Hilderbrand, Rumberger, Sommerville, Eachus, Orbin, Smiley, Aikens, Barndollar, Brenneman, Chambers, Dickinson, Gray, F. K. Mattern, Miller and Thompson.

Mrs. Lieut. Silas A. Wolf gave a party in honor of her sister, Miss Mabel Sawyer, on Saturday evening, May 23rd. Dancing was the order of the evening, music being furnished by part of the college orchestra.

Prepdom has made still another improvement in the way of an electric bell in the fourth floor hall. It rings at five minutes before the time for the college bell to ring in order to give the "Preps" time to get ready to go to their recitations.

During the past few weeks many of the students have availed themselves of the splendid fishing grounds in the mountains south of the college. Several parties of them have been quite a distance over the line into Huntingdon county and spent some three or four days in camp.

A large company of the people of the surrounding neighborhood, including many students, met at the Branch cemetery on Decoration Day where Memorial services were held. Prof. E. F. Davis delivered a very appropriate and effective address. The State College Band was present and rendered music suitable to the occasion. The services as a whole were very impressive.

All the students were pleased to know that both houses had finally passed a bill appropriating the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars for the use of the college. The bill now awaits the signature of the governor. The feature especially interesting to all is the two thousand dollars for athletic purposes.
