The civil engineering students of the senior class, accompanied by Prof. Barnard, spent the week beginning May 18th in camp at Galbreth's Gap in the mountains three miles from Boalsburg. The time was spent in constructing a dam and taking weir measurements for a supposed water supply for State College. The party returned feeling much the better for having had the recreation and the experience in practical work.

Dr. Gregory, of Washington, D. C., delivered, on the evenings of May 13th and 14th, two lectures on the Unification of Italy and of Germany. The Doctor, having spent several years in Europe in close study of the political situation and the causes leading thereto, is peculiarly fitted to treat the subjects named. He was listened to with the closest attention, and all who heard him felt that they understood as never before the state of affairs in these countries.
