

THE FREE LANCE.

Vol. V.

STATE COLLEGE, PA., JUNE, 1891.

No. 3.

THE FREE LANCE.

Published monthly during the college year by the Students of the Pennsylvania State College.

STAFF:

EDITOR,

NELSON McA. LOYD, '92.

ASSOCIATE EDITORS:

C. H. HILE, '92. A. C. READ, '92.

R. W. WILLIAMSON, '93, Ex. C. R. FAY, '93, Loc.

R. B. MATTERN, '93, Lit. P. P. STURDEVANT, '94, Loc.

BOYD A. MUSSER, '94, Per.

Business Manager, J. M. BREWER, '94.

Assistant Manager, ROGER BOWMAN, '94.

TERMS: { One Volume (9 mos.) . . . $1.00
Single Copies,15
Payable in advance.

Contributions of matter and other information are requested from all members and ex-members of the College.

Literary matter should be addressed to the Editor.

Subscriptions, and all business communications, should be addressed to the Business Manager.

Entered at State College Post Office as second class matter.

AT the close of the present month the class of '91 bids farewell to their career as collegestudents and step forth to grapple with the more serious affairs of business life. While they have, as a class, never distinguished themselves in the athletic field, yet they have always shown their fair share of interest in the affairs of the students, and we do not doubt that they will continue that interest in the broader field of duty which will hold as alumni.

'91 in its college course has distinguished itself in its class room work and its achievements have been the achievements of its members individually, rather than in a body. Their prowess has been mental rather than muscular, and as a body of students, they can be held up as examples. College students always experience more or less regret to see a body of men, with whom they have been associated for several years, leave them, and the class of '91 no doubt feels same regret at giving up the pleasant life of a college student, even though eager to enter into the more exciting one of struggling for an honorable position in the business or professional world. We wish you success in the strife, Ninety-one!

* * *

WE are pleased to note the amicable relations, which at present exist between the faculty and students body of our college. That the two bodies have come into a better understanding of each other is easily seen by those who have been about the college for any length of years. The old spirit of antagonism has died away, and where formally there was a tendency to pull independantly of each other we now find them ready and willing to work together for the best interests of the institution. The introduction of the Cut System, the aid the members of the faculty have given our athletics, the recent granting of a holiday on June 1st, and innumerable other incidents of a like nature, which have occurred in the past year, are but proofs and fruits of this amicable relation.

That both the students and faculty appreciate it, we do not doubt; that it will bear further fruits, we do not doubt.

There is one thing, however, that we hope will soon be done away with by the united efforts of both bodies, and that is the lateness with which our college closes. That it is in convenient to both we feel certain; and surely some arrangement could be made by which we will get away from