

nuals and college monthlies among the best preparatory schools.

In this way they would not only make our institution better known, but they would also encourage the publication of college periodicals. We think that our publications compare favorably with the issues of any other college, and here they have a chance to help us.

J. F. S.

MR. EDITOR :

As yet no movement has been made on the part of the college classes to arrange a schedule of class football game. The interest which was taken in class games last year is surely a warrant that their institution again this Fall would be a success. We hope that prompt movement will be made on the part of the students toward arranging such a schedule. The interest in class games seems to have died out owing to the greater interest in the success of our team in the State League, yet nothing has a greater tendency toward developing football players than class matches. It is to be hoped that they will be revived.

J. T. P.

MR. EDITOR :

The way in which the Freshmen and Sophomores came to an agreement about their cane rush, is very gratifying to outsiders who are deeply interested in the college. It shows that a better spirit is prevailing among the students at large. When two classes can do away with the old, time honored rush and amicably agree to decide it with a foot-ball game it shows to disinterested persons that the coming students are placing college before class. The purpose for which the rush was changed to a foot-ball game was, as we all know, in order that the men who belong to the first foot-ball team might not be hurt, and so spoil our chances for a good record in foot-ball this season. The name which the team made during its recent trip last makes, I am sure, every member of the two classes feel proud that they had the necessary stamina to decide between class and college.

P. T. D.

MR. EDITOR :

The Alumni of our college has never aided to any extent in the support of our college athletics. The probable cause for such slight interest in our success in field sports is the fact that they have never been directly appealed to for aid. True they are as yet comparatively few in number, yet there are no doubt many of its members who, if direct requests were made to them, would willingly give financial aid to our athletics. The matter should be brought before them either individually or in a body and then perhaps they will be brought to realize that one of the best means by which they can show their patriotism toward their Alma Mater is by aiding her undergraduates in supporting her position in the college athletic world.

'92.

PERSONALS.

'93. J. H. Mitchell has entered the class of '94 at Cornell.

Ex-'93. R. G. Furst has gone to the University of Pennsylvania to take a course in Medicine.

Ex-'93. J. J. Kintner is reading law with Sponsler & Markle, at New Bloomfield, Pa.

Ex-'91. W. H. White is assisting his brother, J. G. White '82, to put an Electric Railway in Providence, R. I.

Ex-'91. J. H. Yocum's address is Pasadena, Cal.

'91. Miss Maud Moore has been elected assistant principal of a high school in Iowa.

Ex-'91. Chas. Zink has resigned his position at the State Experiment Station with the expectation of taking charge of a farm, which his father is about to purchase.