

president Lee, of Pennsylvania; and Mr. Frohman, Haverford, secretary pro tem. Two new members were admitted to the Association, the Western University of Pennsylvania and Gettysburg College. Haverford resigned from membership on account of inability to train track teams. Swarthmore brought up the amendment which read as follows: a student shall be allowed to compete five times in the association's annual meet and no more, but no student shall compete on one college team, who has ever competed on a similar team at any other college, and no student of a professional department or special course shall compete until he shall have been a student in that college one calendar year.

This amendment was passed and the University of Pennsylvania withdrew from the association as it would not allow them to use men from their professional department. After the University resigned, Dowler of State College acted as chairman pro tem. A committee of three was appointed to draft a new constitution. After the reports of the several officers were made, the election of officers concluded the meeting and were as follows: president H. P. Dowler State College, vice president, C. Balentine, Dickinson; secretary W. B. Keefer, Gettysburg College, and E. G. Smith, Lafayette, treasurer. The Executive committee consists of H. P. Dowler State College, chairman; L. J. Krom, Lehigh; H. C. Turner, Swarthmore; C. E. Bartlett, Lafayette; and Walter Snyder, Dickinson.
