

'92. E. P. Butts has constructed a model of a primitive iron furnace. It will be exhibited at the Worlds Fair.

'92. Will Saylor has secured a first-class position in the chemical department of the large steel works situated at Cromwell, Conn.

Ex-'92. George H. Linsz was married on Monday, March 27th, to Miss Anita Gray, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Rollins B. Gray, of New York City. Mr. and Mrs. Linsz will reside at 2264 N. 19th Street, Phila., Pa.

Ex-'91. C. H. Zink, Jr., Phila., was recently awarded the largest cash prize at McGill University, Montreal, Canada, for superior excellence in the examinations of the year's work closing in April.

Ex-'90. F. Atherton is at home, and is confined to the house on account of illness.

'89. James Foster is located at Florence, Ala. He has purchased a laboratory and expects to remain there permanently.

'88. W. P. Jones is located at Minersville, Pa.

'88. George C. McKee payed a visit to State College during vacation. He has been attending John's Hopkins University.

'85. Mrs. Rev. A. L. Miller, who has had charge of the physical development of the lady students of State College, has resigned her position and returned to her home at Riverside, Pa.

'76. Chauncy F. York, proprietor of the Malena factory at Warriors Mark, visited State College in March. It was his first visit since he left the institution. He was surprised and delighted with the wonderful progress made in the past seven years.

Miss [Name] is Professor of History, and is on vacation at her home in New York City.

J. B. Kinger, a student in the Preparatory Department, has secured a position in the Penna. Railroad offices located at Altoona.

Dr. G. G. Pond spent his recent vacation in New York City.

Prof. Barnard, who recently resigned his position as Professor of Civil Engineering, has gone to England to take charge of some large family estates. Prof. Barnard has occupied the chair of Civil Engineering at State College for the past ten years. His loss is deeply felt in the department and he bears with him the best wishes of the students.

Prof. H. F. Richardson who lectured here on Peasant Life in Germany is a very entertaining and instructive speaker. He has occupied the chair as Professor in German, at Amherst college, for nearly fifteen years. For some years back he has been spending his summers in Germany. In this way he has made himself a master of the German tongue. He is also perfectly conversant with German life and character in all its different phases. His lecture dealt more with localities unknown to the common class of tourists and was decidedly new and interesting.

EXCHANGES.

In the words of the Cynic,

"Again the scene changes, the season is done,
The old rule is over, a new one begun.
The furrows of care are deserting each brow,
While the new combination is making its bow."

The Exchange offers many attractions to us and is, in fact, one of the most attractive departments of a college paper. It brings to our special attention the journalistic productions of a multitude of institutions. On reflecting over their contents we get a better view of college life around us, and take more pleasure in reading college prose and verse.

We notice the Elmira College Sibyl offers three prizes to be given for the best literary essay, the best translation, and the best story. In this way a large number of contributions are received from the students, and a better paper is the result. The plan is a good one and cannot help but raise the literary standing of a college paper.