

—There is talk of changing some parts of the Athletic Association constitution. Many reasons, both pro and con, are advanced especially as relates to the "committee idea." Theoretically it is a good thing, but in practice it is a failure.

—Trainer Hoskins has announced the following hours of physical training:

Monday,.....6 to 7, Chest-weight exercise.
 Tuesday, 3:30 to 4:30, Chest-weight 6 to 7, Dumb bell "
 Wednesday,.....6 to 7, Indian Club "
 Thursday, 3:30 to 4:30, .....Parallel Bar. "
 " 6 to 8,.....Chest-weight "
 Friday,.....6 to 7, Dumb Bell "
 Saturday, 2—to 5, Chest-weight and Parallel-bar "

Beginning next term free wrestling lessons will be given in the gymnasium every Saturday from 3 to 5 p. m.

PERSONALS.

Ex-'96. J. M. Flowers is attending Western University of Penna and played sub-full back in the recent W. U. P.—P. S. C. game.

'66. Cyrus Gordon was elected presiding judge of the Clearfield county courts at the recent State election; Heretofore this county has been strongly Democratic, but rolled up a large Republican majority this year.

Ex-'93. H. T. Pillow is now in the city engineers office Allegheny city, Pa.

'93. Hays Mattern is now in business with his father at Warriors Mark, Pa.

'93. R. W. Williamson was up for the Bucknell game and spent Sunday with us recently.

'93. Miss Emma Camp, after an extend western trip is again at her home, Wyalusing, Pa.

'92. C. H. Hile is now in the employ of the Philadelphia Traction Company.

'92. Willis McKee is in employment of the Electrical Department of the College.

H. W. Ruoff, instructor in the ethics and mental sciences last year, has resumed his post graduate studies in the department of Philosophy at Harvard.

'91. J. W. Fields' was engaged for some weeks as one of the analysts connected with the famous dairy tests at the Worlds Fair this summer. These tests cost $100,000. J. A. Fries was analyst in the Food Department this summer.

'90. J. A. Hunter, who has been in charge of the department of Mechanic Arts at Bethesda Institute is taking a P. G. in engineering.

'89. James Foster is taking special work in Assaying.

'86. Harry J. Patterson has been appointed reporter on methods for analysis of cattle foods, to the association of official agricultural chemists for 1894.

'86. Prof. Geo. L. Holter, of Oklahoma Agricultural College, after some thrilling adventures, located a claim in the Cherokee strip recently opened.

'85. Prof. D. C. Jackson, of the University of Wisconsin, was a member of jury of awards of Electrical displays at the Columbian Exposition, and took a prominent part in the recent electrical congress. He is reputed to be one of the most brilliant among the large and able faculty of his institution. His text book on Electro-magnetism is in use at this institution.

W. J. Karlake is studying for a degree of Ph. D. at John Hopkins University.

Mr. G. T. Sellev, instructor in Prep department last year, is taking post graduate work in mathematics at Cornell University.

Five State College men are now on the P. A. C. Football team. Brown, Read, Aull, Heppenstein and Martin. This is the strongest team of Western Penna.

President G. W. Atherton and Profs. Armsby and Frear attended the meeting of American Agricultural Colleges and Experimental Stations at Chicago during October.