

novel idea and is very amusing. The second of the "Snob Papers" is much to be commended, and we eagerly await the next.

Our southern sisters fall considerably below the usual standard. The April University of Virginia Magazine was a sore disappointment, and the Gray Jacket for March considerably increased this feeling. The former had one redeeming feature, its verse; but the verse of the latter was conspicuous by its absence, for which its editors deserve censure.

We gratefully acknowledge the receipt of the following exchanges:

Columbia Literary Monthly, High School Journal, Bucknell Mirror, University Forum, Oberlin Review, College Folio, Orange and White, Adelbert, Hamilton Literary Magazine, Seminary Opinator, High School Argus, Campus, Bowdoin Orient, Washington Jeffersonian, Pennsylvanian, F. and M. Weekly, Lafayette, Brown and White, Morningside, Gray Jacket, University of Virginia Magazine, Phoenix, and Sibyl.