

Again, we take much pleasure in welcoming a new exchange to our list. The newcomer is The Pacific Wave, of the University of Washington, but it has lost nothing by its long trans-continental journey. The cover design is very tasty and the contents are far above the average.

Weekly* have found their way to the table, full of hopes of future success on the grid-iron for their respective colleges, not omitting the usual words of welcome and brotherly advice to new students.
