STATE VS. WASHINGTON AND JEFFERSON.

OCT. 13.

UNDER this head we have to chronicle one of the vilest deeds ever perpetrated upon a college foot ball field. W. and J. came to State College with but one intention and that to defeat State at any cost. So finding that as the game progressed her chances of winning were growing more dim, she resorted to a game that is a disgrace to any college. It is true that State endeavored to cancel the game, but the student body would not consent, not knowing the class of men with which they had to deal. But they have learned a dear lesson which would have been avoided had Coach Boyle been listened to.

The 10 minutes of play which was completed was dirty ball from the start, W. and J. endeavoring to put a man out the first rush. The ball was then pushed down the field by W. and J. for 15 yards, when State got the ball on offside play and Cure kicked to W. and J.'s 45-yard line. Then Bird kicked 38 yards out of bounds, and Burns carried the ball back 28 yards on next play. Then W. and J. held for downs, and got the ball and carried it by short plunges and a kick to State's 22-yard line, when it was out of bounds. State's ball. Burns was given the ball for an end run and skirted the end for 70 yards, when he was tackled from behind by Core out of bounds. Reed came running across the field and when within a few feet of Burns, who was still prostrate on the ground out of bounds, jumped and landed with both knees on Burns' chest, incapacitating him for play for the time being. Reed seeing what he had done started to arise when the crowd, unable to control itself, started upon the field and used him in a manner not in accord with the treatment of guests; but the most popular just then. A general outburst was only prevented by the immediate action of some of the students.

Everybody who saw the play unites in saying that it was the dirtiest play they ever saw in a foot ball game. The officials, de-
