

nouncing the act as cowardly and brutal, gave statements over their signatures to the above effect.

After the attempt to put Burns out, the referee asked the captains to continue the game, but both captains refused and the game was called off.

Had play been resumed with the ball where it was State would in all probability have repeated last year's feat, but to a larger extent.

The line-up follows:

PRINCETON VS. STATE.

12-0.

AFTER the very encouraging beginning made by our team, it was with much regret that the news of our defeat by Princeton was received. Every effort had been put forth to round out a team which should keep up the record of last year, and everything seemed to point to the success of our team, when there suddenly came upon us an era of misfortune. Hewitt's injury, received during the game with West Point, had made it an impossibility to think of playing him, and Johnson, who was placed at quarter, soon received an injury which constantly interfered with his accurate passing of the ball. In spite of this our chances were considered good, until the climax was reached in the
