

SOCIAL HAPPENINGS.

Goldsmith's famous comedy, "She Stoops to Conquer," was given in the chapel Feb. 9, before a large and appreciative audience. The music was furnished by the Mandolin Club. The play was amusing and full of life and action throughout. Everyone performed his part so well that perhaps it would be difficult to pick any one superior, but yet among the male characters, Wentzel, as Squire Hardcastle, was exceptionally good; while among "ye fair-dames," Hunsicker, acting as Mrs. Hardcastle, was excellent. However, each deserves credit for the manner in which he carried his role. The cast of characters:
