

TOASTS.

Toastmaster, Earl E. Hewitt.

“Let him be sure to leave other men their turns to speak.”

1. Our College.....J. T. Richards

“Great in the past, standest thou fast;
Thou art worthy; reign; be strong until the last.”

2. Our Faculty..... E. N. Zern

“We have always truly served you, and beseech
you so to esteem us.”—The Winter’s Tale,
Act II. Scene 3.

3. Our Ladies.....Edw. S. Frey

“And when a lady’s in the case, you know all other things give place.”

4. Our Enemy.....Edw. B. Farr

“Those fellows seem to possess but one idea,
and that a wrong one.”

5. Our Class.....L. H. Crosman

“What began best can’t end worst.”

“Be a man among men.”

Impromptu.

“Oh Hell! What a babble of voices smite my ears.”

College Songs.

“Farewell! A word that must be, that has been,
A word that makes us linger. Yet—farewell.”

H. F. J. Porter, one of the engineers of the Bethlehem Iron Co., gave a lecture on Steel Forgings on Wednesday evening, Feb. 21st, before the Engineering students of the College. At the Columbian Exposition in 1883 Mr. Porter was practically in charge of the Machinery Department, and he is well-known throughout the United States as one of our leading engineers. He came here by request of the Scientific Association and addressed quite a large audience.

His lecture, which was illustrated, was an interesting and instructive presentation of the “Whitworth Process” of producing steel forgings and of the extensive applications
