

LIBRARY NOTES.

Among the books recently added to the College Library are the following:

- King, J. M.—Facing the 20th Century.
Arnold, H. P.—Historic Side Lights.
Waldstein, Charles—Expansion of Western Ideals.
Ward, Benj.—Successful Man of Business.
DuChaillu, Paul B.—Viking Age.
Evans, C. H.—American College and Public School Directory.
Klein, F.—Famous Problems in Elementary Geometry.
Byerby, M. E.—Elements of Differential Calculus.
Byerby, M. E.—Elements of Integral Calculus.
McShane, Charles—Locomotives up to Date.

YE ALUMNI.

'66.

Prof. A. A. Breneman, who was professor of industrial chemistry at Cornell University, made an elaborate analysis of false teeth in order to determine their composition and the tariff duty they should pay. He found them to be feldspar preparations and not porcelain.

'93.

W. P. Rothrock is with the Fort Pitt Bridge Works, of Canonsburg, Pa.

'95.

T. R. Cummins, Asst. Eng. Illinois Central Railroad at Carbondale, Ill., has been elected a Junior member Western Society of Engineers.

'97.

R. S. Moore, Asst. Eng. Illinois Central Railroad at Chicago has been in charge of soundings for bridge foundations at Cairo, Ill.