

PERADVENTURE, A LANCELET.

As the days of the summer vacation draw near the student becomes somewhat restless and anxiously counts the days that intervene before the pleasures begin. Many pleasant hours will be spent awheel when at last lessons are over for the year; but those who ride would do well to remember this incident and not ride after the sun goes down, or else—ride alone.

AN ADVENTURE.

Three smart young men and three nice girls—

All lovers true as steel—

Decided, in a friendly way,

To spend the day awheel.

They started in the early morn,

And nothing seem amiss ;

And when they reached leafy lanes

They in like rode twos this !

They wandered by the verdant dale,

Beside the rippling rill ;

The sun shown brightly all the while ;

They heard the song bird's trill,

They sped through many a woodland glade,

The world was full of bliss—

And when they rested in the shade,

Theysat intwos likethis