

publishing a monthly that will cast no discredit on the College, but with the encouragement of the receipt of news from other persons gratuitously, it would add to the welcome of the magazine and encourage a more determined effort to work on the part of the editors. We might incidentally remark that the publication costs us about $600 per year; and since we are responsible for the payment of it, we earnestly ask your financial support.

AMONG the most precious possessions of our College are its collection of cups, class flags, pennants, and other trophies that have been acquired through many years of hard work on the part of our students. Many of these have been the result of an untiring effort on the part of our athletic teams to bring home a prize that would be highly cherished by all friends of State. Is it not fitting, then, that some means be taken to find a permanent place for these valuable articles? As they are now kept, scattered here and there among different buildings, they are often unavailable when wanted on some special occasion. Furthermore with no regular place for their keeping, there is a liability that the proper care will not be taken of them. If some means could be taken to gather the trophies together and place them in a safe and conspicuous place, they would form an interesting collection for our friends to look at when visiting the College. The librarian has kindly offered to give room for a cabinet to be placed in the library in which all could be collected and thus be plainly seen by everybody. To put them in the Armory or Engineering Building would, often necessitate some trouble to obtain them on account of these places not generally being open. It seems to me that the library would be the proper as well as the safest place to keep them. We hope that the persons who have charge of these possessions will take the matter in hand and make an effort to provide a
