

PROGRAMME.

Music, overture, "Les Vepres Siciliennes" (Verdi); oration, Our National Growth, Peter Joseph Morrisey, Franklin; oration, The Future of America, Christian Smith Bomberger, Annville; music, march, "The Outpost" (Heed); oration, Who Is Great Among You? John Donaldson Elder, Elders Ridge; oration, The True Knight, Thomas Junk Bryson, West Leisenring; music, selection, "Sultan of Sulu" (Ade and Wathall); oration, Frontiers in History, Mahlon Jacob Rentschler, Centreport; oration, The Triumph of Commercialism, Robert Harvey Lyons, Union City; music, Gems From the "Defender" (Denee).

DEDICATION OF THE NEW AUDITORIUM.

The dedication of the new auditorium presented by Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Schwab took place at 10 A. M. Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Schwab were unable to attend. Mr. Schwab was detained in New York on business. They were represented by Dr. N. H. Ward, Schwab's brother-in-law, who made the presentation speech, W. B. Dixon, second vice-president of the United States Steel Company, and C. W. Baker, New York representative of the Steel Company. Mr. Schwab sent a letter of regret, in which he said he expected to be at the college at an early date.

During the dedication exercises, Mr. Hazelhurst, architect of the auditorium, was presented on the stage. Mr. Alexander, who had charge of the building operations, was singled out of the audience and his work praised. Mr. Pattison and Johnnie Corrigan also came in for a share of the praise for their part of the work of putting up the building.

Dr. Ward, in his speech at the dedication said: "The great corporations are earnestly searching for young men who can do things." "There is nothing unusual in the career of Mr. Schwab. It is perfectly natural that he should be where he is. He has won his present place strictly on his merits."

Mr. Colfelt during his talk at the dedication services in his usual