James P. Greenman.

James P. Greenman a member of the Sophomore class died at his home here in State College early Monday morning. Apparently well and in good health, he attended Band rehearsal on Friday afternoon. On Saturday he complained of feeling badly and took to his bed. Pneumonia developed rapidly and on Monday morning, he breathed his last. He is survived by his parents and one brother and one sister.

Deceased was a member of the College Band, stood well in his classes, and was very popular with all his associates.

The Sophomore class held a meeting on Monday at noon and B. H. Olmstead, C. J. Adams, and J. P. Hand were appointed a committee to draw up resolutions. E. T. Eckert was appointed to accompany the body to Coudersport, Potter county, where it was interred. The executive committee attended the services at the home of the deceased on Monday evening at 7.30 and on Tuesday morning the entire class escorted the body to the train at the Bellefonte Central Station.

Easter Hop.

The Senior Class has decided to give an Easter Hop in accordance with the custom of past years. This action was taken at a meeting held Thursday evening, Feb. 16 and President Rainey appointed the following committee to make arrangements for the affair: Kuhn, Chairman; Weaver, Robinson, Hoskins, and Peschko. Later Kuhn resigned and Weaver was appointed Chairman in his stead with Gerber, as the other member of the committee.

The Pharsonians.

The Pharsonians gave their annual mid-winter production in the Armory on Saturday evening last. The old saying that "there are just as good fish in the sea as ever were caught" held true here for although some of the old stand bys were missed, the performance this year was just as good if not better than ever before. "Pop" Golden as interlocutor, was better than ever. Saunders, Waller, and Reznor the end men kept the house in an uproar with their jokes and catchy songs, while the ballads by Saunders, Dawson and Rippel were well sung. Although one of the Holmes Bros. had a bad cold, they made a hit, while "Casey" Fawkes with his "Dooley Philosophy" was extremely funny. The street car sketch which wound up the performance, was the best thing in that line that the Pharsonians have offered for years and if some of the details are worked out a little better, it will make a big hit at Commencement.

Debating Club.

Franklin and Marshall have chosen the affirmative side of the following question:—

"Resolved, that the Franchise or License plan recommended by Commissioner Garfield for the Federal control and supervision of corporations engaged in interstate commerce, should be enacted by Congress."

This debate will take place at State College on Friday, April 7th. Trials for the team will be held in the old Chapel on Thursday evening March 9th. An extensive list of references is on file in the Library. All who wish to try for the team will kindly hand their names to Mr Frizzell before Monday Feb. 27th.

Death of D. M. Stuart.

The funeral of Daniel Moser Stuart took place Tuesday, February 21st, 1905 at 2 p. m. with interment at the Branch Cemetery. The young man, only twenty-five, was the son of Postmaster Stuart and a former student of this College, not graduating however. He completed his Junior year in 1901 and accepted a position with the J. H. Heinz Company at Holland, Michigan. Later he was promoted to the position of superintendent of the factory at Norfolk, Virginia, belonging to the same company, which position he held at the time of his death. He contracted an attack of la grippe and pneumonia last Monday a week and died on the following Friday.

His sudden demise was a severe shock to his many friends at State College.

Team Away on Eastern Trip.

On Tuesday afternoon the basketball team left College on the eastern trip, the first game of which was played against Pennsylvania in Philadelphia, Tuesday night. The schedule for the trip includes four hard games: U. of P; Swarthmore at Swarthmore, Pa., Thursday night; Franklin & Marshall at Lancaster, Friday night, and Dickinson at Carlisle, Saturday night. The team has been playing very fast ball lately, as was noticed in last Friday's game with Dickinson, and they hope to bring home a few scalps. The men who were taken on the trip are: Coach Golden, Manager Williams, Captain Dunn, Foltz, Yeckley, Heaton, Moorhead, Burns, Caswell and Quigley. An account of the trip will be given next week.
