

Senior Electrical Theses.

Arnold is running a test of the commercial electrical methods of preparing Chromium.

Kuhn is investigating a commercial method for purifying Aluminium Sulphate.

Christman and Fredericks have designed and are constructing an electric welding apparatus.

Madden and Plank are designing and constructing a constant current transformer.

Butler and Creese are testing the different moters in use about the college.

Hurst is investigating the electric furnace method for preparing Aluminium.

Eshleman, Weaver and Yarnall are surveying and making plans and specifications for a trolley road from the College to Lemont.

Minick and Murray are running a test on a rotary converter.

Lytle is testing the various makes of Watt-meters.

Goodman and Kaiser are designing and constructing a double current generator.

Rainey and Seguire have designed and are constructing an automatic, electrically controlled street railway switch.

Govier and Elliott are making a complete test of a Wagner single phase induction motor.

Fritchey and Kautz are investigating arc light photometry.

Bennett and Krone are studying the electrification of the steam railroads.

Fitzimons is designing and constructing a mercury vapor lamp.

Smith is designing an autographic street railway test car.

Notice.

Owing to the Spring vacation, there will be no issue of The COLLEGIAN next week. The next number will appear on Thursday, April 6th.

Attendance Rules.

Believing that the students of the University of Vermont may be trusted with a greater share in the responsibility of their work as regards attendance, the following provisional arrangement, approved by the faculty, will go into effect at the opening of the second half-year. The success and continuance of this plan will depend in a very large measure on the co-operation of the student body in an earnest effort to make the provisional change a success.

CLASS ATTENDANCE.

It is assumed that each student will attend regularly the exercises of his college course. It is recognized, however, that while a faithful student will endeavor to be present at all exercises, sickness and various unexpected obligations may occasionally prevent him from attending his regular work. For a limited number of such occasional absences no excuse need be presented.

If at any time an instructor or the attendance committee feels that a student has been absent from a course more than a reasonable amount, the student may be requested by the committee to explain his case in full. If deemed advisable, he may be required to take an examination to prove his fitness to continue in the work of the course, or he may be dropped from the course, or he may be suspended from college, all at the discretion of the committee. For every examination required by the committee a fee of two dollars will be charged.

If a student should fail, by reason of non-attendance, to co-operate in the successful working of the above plan, he will be held accountable to the attendance committee for all future absences.

Leave of absence must be obtained in advance by college organizations.

In gymnasium and military work, students are held responsible for their attendance to the instructors in those courses.

To prevent possible misunderstanding, it is suggested that students who incur prolonged absence due to sickness notify their instructors and the committee to this effect.

CHAPEL ATTENDANCE.

Students are expected to attend Chapel services as follows:

Freshmen, three mornings each week: chemists, agricultural students and division 1 of the engineers on Monday, Wednesday and Friday; classical, literary-scientific, division 2 of the engineers, and other students, on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Sophomores, three mornings each week, on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Juniors, two mornings each week, on Tuesday and Thursday.

Seniors, optional.

Should a student have no early morning recitation on days assigned for chapel attendance, by conference with the committee, arrangement for attendance on other mornings may be made.

Students not in their seats when the bell ceases ringing are marked absent.

Should a student fail to comply in general with the above, he may be called to explain his case to the committee who may act at their discretion.—University Cynic.

Princeton's dramatic organization will present "The Pretenders" this spring in several large cities, including Pittsburg, Cleveland, and Chicago.

A Jap has announced himself as candidate for pitcher on the University of Michigan team.

Samuel Sill, of the board of overseers of Harvard University has subscribed $50,000 to the deficiency funds of the University.