their laurels on the track, diamond, or basketball floor we mention the names of Dunn, Ray, Hornbaker, Saunders, and White and merely say that these men will be sorely missed next year. In the literary life of the school the class of 1905 is not lacking. It is due chiefly to the energies of some of its members that this paper was started and on its editorial boards we have had Hoke, Hart and Torrence. Three of its members, Aungst, Hart and Hunter have represented us at one time or another in inter-collegiate debates.

Of those of 1905 who have been honored by election to conspicuous offices we will mention. Beck, Eshelman, Johnson, and Rainey the four class presidents and Smith and Offutt the managers of the athletic teams. We do not pretend to repeat all that the different members of this class have done but will only say that everyone of them has proven himself a man and leaves a record that he may be proud to own.

1906 La Vie

The first installment of the 1906 La Vie appeared last Friday as contracted for. Many new and original ideas have appeared and thus far the comments passed upon the book are very favorable. The art work, especially, is of the very highest order. The books are selling very rapidly and any student who wishes one had better get one at once before the edition is exhausted.
