Last winter the state legislature of Arkansas, recognizing the work of the Young Men's Christian Association in Arkansas University, gave $1,000 to it for equipment. The students, faculty, and friends in Fayetteville pledged an equal amount. The board of trustees then set aside for the Association use an entire floor of the south wing of the main building. In this the Association has now fitted up a trophy room, a missionary room, a Bible study room, a small chapel, a library, and a game room. It has employed a full time secretary and the work is in a very prosperous condition.
