That Yal Game.

while this method was varied now and then by the end runs of Moorhead, Barr and Campbell. No player in State's line-up was out played by his Yale opponent, and our Varsity seemed to excel in every department of the game. And Old Eli was not caught unawares, either, for the previous two weeks had been spent in careful preparation by their coaches, who looked for a hard fight,—and they were far from disappointed!—in fact, the adherents of the "Blue" are still scratching their heads in trying to figure out just how those Keystone State boys turned the trick. Take it anyway you please, State men, it was surely one of the most splendid battles ever fought for dear Old State, and all honor is due every man on our Varsity squad. Let us, one and all, be staunchly loyal to our Varsity every minute, for our constant support will assure the grandest gridiron season we have ever had. The remaining schedule is extremely difficult, but hard and constant training should enable State's team to win all her remaining games. Here's to our Varsity, loyal and true!

Wake Up.

It has been noticed that Freshmen are beginning to cut the campus showing a disregard for one of the oldest "State" traditions. If the Sophomores are too busy to punish these infractions as they threatened to do at the beginning of the year it will be necessary for upper classmen to take a hand.
