

Stunts.

When the Yale score came in last Saturday evening there was enough spirit aroused among the students to do a few things. First of all the fellows collected in a mass and headed by the band marched around to the homes of the different members of the faculty and obtained speeches suitable for the occasion. Next it did not take long for the Freshmen to collect enough wood for a large bonfire which lighted up the vicinity for several miles around. This topped by a band "stag" in the Armory consisted of the Saturday evening celebrations. On Monday morning the team on arriving in town received its customary reception.

The Senior class of Minnesota has been sued by a printing company for eight hundred and fifty dollars. The amount, the printing company claims, is due them for the publication of the '05 Gopher, which is the Minnesota annual.—Ex.
