

Basketball.

With the closing of the football season at the W. U. P. game interest will be transferred to basketball. Practice will begin shortly after the Thanksgiving recess. With the exception of Captain Dunn, who graduated last year, all the old Varsity men, five in number, will again appear on the floor. There is also an abundance of new material so that prospects for a successful basketball team are unusually bright,

Thus far the schedule has not been completed but it is probable that no regular games will be played before Christmas. The eastern trip, with a few changes, will be again taken in February and it is possible that another trip will be arranged for.

Last year's season was a very successful one, such teams as U. of P., Dickinson, (twice), F. & M., Wyoming, and Altoona A. A. being defeated while Swarthmore and Altoona secured the only victories from State.

Captain Heaton will probably make his call for candidates early next week. All new men, and old as well, should come out as an abundance of material always makes the men work hard for their positions.

Durno the Magician.

The second entertainment of the Y. M. C. A. course will take place on Friday evening, December 8, when Durno the magician will give his marvelous exhibition of sleight-of-hand.

Durno comes here well recommended and his entertainment is of high order. Tickets for seats in the Auditorium may be secured at Meek's. Everyone turn out and spend an enjoyable evening.

Battalion Review.

The review of the Cadet Battalion, which is ordinarily one of the most interesting and popular attractions that the college has to offer its Pennsylvania Day guests, was unfortunately marred on Friday last by a cold and disagreeable shower which not only kept spectators away, but also robbed the occasion of much of its usual spirit and ceremony. Major General Miller, who was to review the Battalion, felt obliged to attend a banquet given to the military notables at the Schenley Hotel, Pittsburg, but had secured Col. Curtin, of Bellefonte, who is the ranking Colonel of the Pennsylvania National Guard, in his place.

Col. Curtin was much pleased with the marching and pronounced the lines of the companies as they passed the reviewing party to be better than those kept by National Guard men. This, considering the slippery and uneven ground, is a high compliment, and reflects great credit upon Captain Hay and his cadet officers.

Y. M. C. A. Social.

There will be an informal social held in room 529, Main, on Friday evening after Thanksgiving for those students who are unable to go home for the vacation. Previous occasions of this nature have proved very enjoyable and this year's should be no exception. There will be a general good time and "something to eat." Everyone is invited. Come and enjoy yourself.
