

and to-day they looked as fresh as if newly created. This valley is not surpassed by any in Switzerland. If I ever return here this shall be my headquarters, for it is even more lovely than Chamouni, and more free than Interlaken. The Spann-oerter are incredibly grand peaks, and the round Titlis heavily laden with snow, the foot of which lies in the meadows, and the effect of the Urner rocks in the distance, are so well worth seeing; it is now full moon, and the valley is clothed in beauty.

FELIX.

How's This!

The following clippings are from the Philadelphia North American.

Battle Creek, Mich., March 10.

The presidents of seven Michigan colleges at a secret meeting here have decided after a long discussion to permit the members of their college baseball teams to play professional baseball in the summer, providing they do not play in the major or minor leagues of the country. Following are the colleges whose presidents were present:

Ypsilanti, Normal, Hillsdale, Alma, Albion, Kalamazoo, Olivet and Michigan Agricultural College. The presidents also recommended the abolishing of the training table and the system of allowing the athletes free board and the permitting of men to enter college for a few weeks during the athletic season.

It was decided that freshmen may enter athletic contests provided they have been in school twelve weeks and are up in their scholarships.

Providence, R. I., March 10.

Brown University athletics, beginning with the commencement of the next academic year in September, will be controlled by the students, subject to faculty approval as the result of the acceptance by the undergraduate body today of the rules prescribed by the faculty in a communication made to the students on Thursday. A committee consisting of students from the several classes will be appointed to formulate rules of organization, eligibility and play to go into effect in September.

Such sentiments as these are identical with suggestions made in the columns of "the Collegian's" last issue.
