EDITORIAL.

Inquiries have oftentimes been made as to why there is not an infirmary at State. This is a question which the Collegian is unable to answer and will not attempt to do so. The fact remains: we need some such place and we need it badly. There is no suitable place to care for undergraduates who become seriously ill. They are at present taken to the home of Dr. Robison, where they cannot be cared for as they should be. Other colleges find an infirmary indispensable, but State seems to find it dispensable. This is really a matter that should be given some attention, and not dropped as a passing thought. The number of students at State demands that the Trustees of the institution make some provision for those who fall sick. Let the matter work itself into the thoughts of those who have at heart the interests of the college, and let it bring forth some fruit!

Now that the Thespians have completed their trips and are lying back until Commencement, a few words of commendation and encouragement are in order. This year's production is acknowledged by competent critics to be the best play that has been presented for some years. In view of the fact that the Thespians have lately degenerated, State's undergrads hail this regeneration with a feeling of gladness, because the dramatic art should flourish here if it can prosper elsewhere. This year's cast has shown this possibility, and there is no reason why the Commencement production should not be the best we have yet seen. In the absence of the Pharsonians this year, the Thespians ought to receive better support and it is up to the members of the cast to put on a good show. This is a field that State should develop, and she can do it. Nothing can foster the work better than earnest, whole-hearted application and co-operation to produce a play that is worthy of the college.

In a word to the alumni, we suggest that they help along the organization, and assist the management in procuring good engagements, where State men can see each other and meet a few of the undergraduates.

The Reserves Still Winning.

The Reserve nine under Captain Dodge added another victory to its big list by defeating Juniata College at Huntingdon last Saturday, 12 to 5. McGee was on the slab for the Reserves, and struck out twelve Juniata batsmen, making victory certain from the start. Captain Dodge and his men have now chalked up four victories and no defeats, thus appearing the strongest second State team for some time. The whole line-up is working together nicely and makes the Varsity hustle at every point. Lock Haven Normal has cancelled, but Manager Morgan will probably secure several other good attractions.

COLLEGE NOTES.

J. H. Lytle, '05, is with old college friends for a short time.

Elwell Funk, Lehigh '05, visited Harry Jacobs of the College last week.

The Freshman Co-eds are showing their class spirit by wearing their green caps.

Dr. M. E. Wadsworth visited the State Mining Department at Harrisburg last week.

The Flag scrap showed its effect on the choir. Only six turned out on Friday morning.

Mr. McArthur delivered an interesting address before the Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday evening of last week.

The Freshmen are smoking on the campus, thereby breaking one of our oldest college customs. Cut it out!

Last Thursday evening the Co-tillion Club held its regular dance in McAllister Hall. It was well attended and enjoyed by all.

The new green leaves and grass form a pleasant addition to the campus. It reminds one of the approach of examinations and Commencement.

Dr. H. F. Stecker last week attended the meeting of the American Mathematical Society held in New York City under the auspices of Columbia University.

Out in Portland, Oregon, some fellow searched the Bible from cover to cover to find justification for the football player. He reported the following as a result:

"They rush with one accord."—Acts. xix. 29.
"Many shall run to and fro."—Dan. xii. 4.
"That my footsteps slip not."—Psa. xvii. 5.
"Run not to excess."—I Peter iv. 4.
"I will scatter them."—Jeremiah xiii. 24.
"Thy tackling loosed."—Isaiah xxxiii. 23.
"Touch him not."—Psalms civ. 32.
"Trample them."—Isaiah lvii. 2.
"Require a sign" (signed).—I Cor. i. 22.
"Speak that they go forward."—Ex. xiv. 15.
"Time to kill."—Ecclesiastes iii. 3.
