Inter-Class Meet for Commencement.

As Track-Manager Harding has been unable to secure either Lafayette or W. U. P. to come here for our Commencement track-meet, the inter-class meet will be held then. This should prove a very interesting affair, although 1907 looks pretty sure of a victory. "Hi" Henry, recently, elected track captain for next season, has been kept busy recently, looking after the numerous entries for the coming meet, and all the classes seem to be showing a decided interest.

Our Annual Victory at Princeton.

In a great 1 to 0 game Penn State once again downed the champion Princeton team, thus making their third consecutive triumph over the Tigers. "Lefty" McIlveen doing the twirling. "Mac" was perfect master of the situation throughout, and the Nassau batters could scarcely hit the ball past State's captain, who had nine assists to his credit. For Princeton, Doyle began the pitching, but only some sensational fielding saved him. Heyniger was then tried, and although very effective handed out several passes to first. Meanwhile, State had scored a run, which looked as big as a twenty story building in that battle. Byram was then sent into the box to finish the game, and keep the visitors from any further scoring.

State's winning run was scored in the following way: In the fifth inning, Mason opened things by getting a pass to first from Heyniger; Ross bunted neatly, and Heyniger got his feet twisted in attempting to field the ball, Mason and Ross getting easily on the second and first cushions respectively. Mahaffey attempted to bunt, but banged a swift one to Sides on third, forcing Mason at that base. Then Conklin fanned at three fast ones, and on the third strike Cooney shot the ball to first to catch Mahaffey napping. Bard, however, failed to stop this throw, and while McLean was chasing the ball in the right garden, Ross dashed in with that run which will go down in State's baseball history. Brilliant fielding kept State's hitting down, but Thompson had a hit which the State 2, Lafayette 1.

In the finest game witnessed on Beaver Field for many seasons, State's team defeated Lafayette last Friday afternoon. From the very start the contest resolved itself into a pitcher's battle between Haverstick and Newberry. State's sturdy little twirler, however, had the better of the argument, growing stronger towards the close of the game. Hits were scarce at all stages, and it was 0 to 0 for three innings. In the fourth, Captain Hawk's team opened up at a rapid clip, Snook began the trouble with a single to left; Hawk fanned; Peters dropped a punky fly into right, and Schneider rolled a safety into the same territory, scoring Snook. Newberry also singled, and the bases were filled, with but one out. Folkinson hit one to Cree, who shot the ball to Kilmer, retiring Peters. Then Wack lined one towards short, but "Birdie" gobbled it up, and the fun was all over for Lafayette, for they secured but one hit during the remainder of the game.

With a lead of one run the representatives of the "Maroon and White" trotted about the field in confident fashion, but in the sixth inning State succeeded in tying the score. Cree drew a pass, went to second on Kilmer's neat sacrifice, and came over the plate on McIlveen's rousing swat to middle. Thompson also bingled, but the run-getting was over for that inning.

Neck and neck the two teams fought until the ninth inning was reached, and an extra-inning contest looked certain. But State's sons decided otherwise. Captain McIlveen stepped to the plate amid a
