

ginning, such as is open to any young man in America, has been built, first, a thorough educational foundation, equally balanced between the theoretical and practical sides of engineering. Superimposed on this has been still further study, through advanced research in scientific laboratories and practical analysis in shop management and construction, until a broad fundamental training was attained upon which to build a still broader and more far-reaching engineering career."

"Anyone who follows Mr. White in his writings or in his business activities is at once impressed with the culture, the technical resourcefulness, the command of practice, and the grasp upon business of the man."

Yeckley by a great sprint carried the ball 40 yards. State then lost the ball on the visitor's 2 yard line, and Carnes kicked it back 35 yards to Partridge who returned it to the 20 yard line. Vorhis again placed the ball between the goal posts for the second field goal. With a few seconds to play, the game was resumed and ended with the ball on Lebanon Valley's 50 yard line. Score.

Ten hard games remain upon Manager Thompson's schedule as follows:

September 29, State vs Allegheny College, at State College.

October 6, State vs. Carlisle Indians, at Williamsport.

October 13, State vs. Gettysburg, at State College

October 20, State vs. Yale, at New Haven.

October 27, State vs. Villanova, at State College.

November 3, State vs. Annapolis, at Annapolis.

November 10, State vs. Westminster, at State College.

November 17, State vs. Dickinson, at Williamsport.

November 24, State vs. W. Va. University, at State College.

Thanksgiving Game, November 29, State vs. W.U.P., at Pittsburg.

No college eleven in the country has a more severe campaign before them than this. The games with the Indians, Yale, Annapolis, Dickinson, and W; U. P., always prove struggles of the most trying character, while the five remaining contests will be by no means easy ones. Last season, the only three defeats came in the games against Carlisle, Annapolis, and Yale; while this year Captain "Mother" Dunn and his warriors are determined to turn at least two of this hard trio of battles into victories for "the White and Blue."

Those who have charge of this years football team are:

- S. M. Thompson, Manager
- N. R. Wright, Ass't Manager
- W. N. Golden, Athletic Director
- T. F. Fennell, Coach
- J. D. Elder, Ass't Coach.
