Reading Club Banquet.

McAllister Hall was the scene of an unusually successful banquet last Saturday evening. About twenty-five students from Berks county were assembled together to partake of the "wittals" and to mingle in the good fellowship always found at such gatherings. The enjoyment ceased at twelve-thirty, but not until the following orators had relieved themselves of a few thoughts:

- Pennsylvania German. Prof. C. D. Fehr
- The Reading Club. G. D. Barbey
- Seniors. Ex-President E. F. Deysher
- Juniors. President H. M. Braucher
- Sophs. W. C. Weaver
- Freshies. P. W. Jones
- Preps. E. H. Werner
- Berks at State. W. F. H. Wentzel
- Berks at Home. M. B. Gerhard
- Purpose and Possibilities . . . Mr. M. J. Rentschler

COLLEGE NOTES.

Dr. Alexius de Sigmond, Professor in the Polytechnicum at Buda Pesth, Hungary, visited the Experiment Station last week. Dr. de Sigmond is Professor of Agricultural Chemistry and Technology, and has been traveling extensively in this country during the past six months, studying both educational institutions and manufacturing methods. His visit to State was for the special purpose of inspecting the Respiration Calorimeter.

Dr. H. P. Armsby left for Baton Rouge, La. on Saturday, Nov. 10, to attend the 20th annual convention of the Association of American Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations which opened yesterday in that city. Dr. Armsby gave a memorial address, the subject of which was "President George W. Atherton, of Pennsylvania."

The Camera Club.

About ten men gathered last week to organize the Penn State Camera Club, a kind of organization new to State. Q. H. Martin was elected President, G. D. Barbey, Secretary and Treasurer, and a committee was appointed to draw up a constitution. This club hopes to enroll every student who is in any way interested in photography. A dark room has been secured for the use of the members. With this co-operative effort a higher standard of work may be expected in the La Vies and photographic work of the future.

Notice.

Mr. Smith, of Montgomery and Co., Bellefonte, will be at the Nittany Inn to-day (Thursday) and Friday of this week with a complete line of pennants, arm-bands, canes, etc., for the Dickinson game. The prices are right. Mr. Smith will also take orders for full-dress suits for the Thanksgiving Hop.
