

The Pennsylvania State College will hereafter endeavor to maintain the following courses of study:

I. General Courses:

| | |
|------------------|-----------------|
| General Science | Modern Language |
| Classical | and Literature |
| Latin Scientific | Philosophy |

II. Technical Courses:

| | |
|------------------------|------------------------|
| Agriculture | Industrial Chemistry |
| Biology | Mathematics |
| Chemistry | Mechanical Engineering |
| Civil Engineering | Mines and Metallurgy |
| Electrical Engineering | Physics |

Some of these courses in the past have not been well patronized. An effort is being made to remove the causes which have operated against them, and in this, the aid and encouragement of students, alumni and friends of the College is solicited. § § § § § § § §