

State is represented on the second team by Dunn, Burns, and McCleary, although no mention is made of Gotwals, who is considered by impartial judges to be one of the finest tackles in the state.

Several paragraphs of the article are devoted to a eulogy on the work of the W. and J. men. While the men selected for the first team are undoubtedly among the best players in the state, we fell confident that if Piekarski were not a Penn. graduate and the coach for W. and J., his choice would have been somewhat different.

Brotherhood Reception.

Last Wednesday evening a reception was given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Pond to all Episcopal students by the Brotherhood of St. Andrew and the ladies of St. Andrew's Episcopal Mission. A short talk was given by Prof. Espenshade on the history of the Mission, its growth, and prospects for the future. Prof. Espenshade has been connected with the Mission since 1898 and has been lay-reader most of that time. Prof. Frizzell, who is director of the Brotherhood, then told about the work of the Brotherhood, its origin, and the good it has accomplished in this country and abroad.

Excellent refreshments were served by the ladies, and after every one had satisfied the inner man, all adjourned to the parlor and sang songs till a late hour. Over forty persons were present and the reception was a great success from every standpoint.
