

The Picture Scrap.

About nine-thirty on Friday morning the Freshmen made the usual attempt to take a class picture. When the signal was given they took hasty leave of classrooms and assembled on the side of the Auditorium toward the Main Building. A camera had previously been set up in the La Vie room and focused on the proper place. The Sophomores were on the spot almost as soon as the Freshmen, however, and lost no time in putting the camera out of commission. This prompt work probably spoiled the clever scheme, for, in spite of the fact that the Freshmen claim to have several plates, they have not yet, at this writing, displayed a picture as proof of a successful effort.

Dr. Gill Announces Engagement.

Dr. Benjamin Gill announces his engagement to Miss Ellen Urania Clark of Cambridge, Massachusetts. Miss Clark is the daughter of the late Rev. W. R. Clark D.D. of Cambridge and an old friend of Dr. and the late Mrs. Gill. She has been engaged in school and college work, but of late years has lectured on subjects connected with English Literature in the private schools of Boston.

Dr. Gill has presented to the Library an excellent photograph of the famous city of Athens. This photograph was taken only a few years ago and shows the present appearance of the ancient great seat of culture and learning as well as the modern city. The photograph adds a quiet beauty to the building and there is no doubt but that a few more pictures of similar character would greatly enhance the attractiveness of the interior of the Library.
