

State 52—Lebanon Valley 20.

In the last regular game of the season State's varsity five defeated Lebanon Valley in the Armory last Friday evening. At no time was the score close enough to make the game exciting, although the visitors several times received hearty applause for the manner in which they made long and successful throws.

At the beginning of the game Lebanon Valley surprised our team by making several quick passes and putting the ball in the basket during the first two minutes of play. Then a foul was called on State and the ball successfully thrown, making the the score 3-0 in our opponents' favor. State's team then began to play real basketball, giving the Annville players a chance to score only once during the remainder of the half. Time was called with the score 24-5.

Lebanon Valley gained courage during the intermission, for soon after the opening of the second half they threw three goals and a foul in succession. State was able to keep the ball more of the time, however, and held the lead during the remainder of the game. Ticknor and Reed went in during the second half and did good work. Herman distinguished himself in throwing goals, putting the ball in the net nine times. When the referee's whistle blew the score stood 52-20 in favor of State.

With the exception of the interclass game, this is the last important game of the season. Captain Waha and his men have labored under difficulties, and although the season has not been a brilliant one, they have done good, consistent work of which we are proud. The last two games played on our own floor against fast teams have shown that our team has the skill and the spirit which win victories.

Athletic Amendment.

The committee appointed to draw up an amendment to the constitution of the athletic association to govern the expenditures not already provided for will submit the following at the next meeting of the association: "Expenditures coming under the athletic association and not otherwise provided for shall be referred for approval to a committee consisting of the following men: treasurer of the athletic association, president of the athletic association, director of athletics, chairman of the advisory committee, and the manager of the team representing the department in which the expenditure arises. However, on the failure of any expenditure to meet the approval of this committee it can only be paid by a two-thirds vote of the athletic association."

Junior Electricals Entertained.

Professor and Mrs. Jackson entertained the junior electricals at their home last Saturday night in a very pleasing manner. The time was principally taken up with playing cards and singing college songs. Dr. Gill read a few selections from the works of several well known authors, and sang a number of comic songs. The junior electrical orchestra furnished some catchy music as its share of the entertainment and "Bill" Child created the hit of the evening with his rag time coon songs. The men departed for their rooms at a very reasonable hour, each swearing allegiance to "Price."
